

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

This Catalogue is the result of the conviction that the possession of manuscripts of even a moderate antiquity carries with it the responsibility of publishing some account of them for the use of scholars. It has also been our belief that a descriptive catalogue will make the manuscripts now in the University's possession more useful to the departments to which they relate, and that the only way to build up a notable collection of manuscripts in the University is to make the most of what we have.

Not all indeed that the University now possesses in the way of manuscripts is here included. The Greek papyri in Haskell Oriental Museum we have been obliged to reserve for separate treatment, although the inclusion of those texts from the Ptolemaic and Roman periods, some of them unpublished, would have enriched this volume. The East Indian and other valuable oriental manuscripts belonging to Haskell Museum we have left untouched. Since the completion of our work upon this Catalogue, too, new collections including valuable autograph letters have been given to the University by Mr. Edward B. Butler, Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, Mrs. Erskine M. Phelps, and Mrs. Emma B. Hodge. Such collections of letters and documents evidently call for a special catalogue. Further, the mass of manuscript fragments from bindings or still in bindings present a large field for the manuscript cataloguer. We have made a beginning with these, but such pieces are seldom of value, and while a few of the more significant ones are described in the present volume, we have not as yet felt justified in asking the University's permission to destroy dozens of fine old bindings of unquestioned interest in the history of book-making, in the effort to detach parchment fragments of doubtful value. Finally, it is more than probable that as the cataloguing of the University's printed books goes on, some manuscripts long since in its possession will come to hand; but while we covet these for our Catalogue, and have made such search for them as we could, it has seemed wiser to proceed with those we have than to wait for an end which will never come, since the University will never cease to acquire manuscripts.

Of the manuscripts treated in this Catalogue, few have been secured through special purchase. Nearly all have come to the University with large collections of printed books. The libraries of Hengstenberg, acquired in 1869-70, George B. Ide (1873-74), the American Bible Union (1885-86), and the Old University of Chicago (1891) brought some manuscripts with them. But the great majority of our manuscripts we owe to the purchase in 1891 of the Berlin Collection. A concise list of these followed the Berlin Collection to Chicago, and while not all the manuscripts there reported have come into our hands, we have found some others not listed there but very probably from the same source, and the eight missing ones may yet be found as the cataloguing of the great collection approaches completion. The Ovid manuscript (no. 99) came to our attention when this Catalogue was already in type, and is therefore treated in an Appendix.

The manuscripts which formed part of the Berlin Collection at the time of its acquisition by the University had been gathered from various sources, most of which it is no longer possible to identify. In the case of a few codices, however, a definite statement of origin and early history can be made. The Glycas, Georgius Hamartolus, and De Rancé manuscripts display the arms of Pius VI, in whose time and probably for whose library three of them were written. Nos. 14 and 99 have on their covers somewhat similar arms, perhaps those of Cardinal Braschi before he became Pius VI. Of these six manuscripts, three (nos. 14, 65, 99) with five others (nos. 1, 5, 11, 51, 52) have a rectangular label, numbered in roman. Perhaps this early label was that of Pius VI's collection. Over it in some cases has been pasted the oval label which appears on nos. 2, 6, 12, 14, 17, 18, 39, 47, 54, 63, 65, and 99. It is at least clear that all the manuscripts bearing these labels have come with the Berlin Purchase, whether included in its list or not, and the labels give us some hint of the probable process of accretion by which the principal element in that collection of manuscripts developed. It is not indeed impossible that the nineteen manuscripts of the three groups formed part of that private papal collection of which Cardinal Braschi's two manuscripts were the nucleus. At all events they became combined with a group of his manuscripts and were catalogued together before they came into the possession of the Calvary Brothers in Berlin. Other similar manuscript relationships, in so far as we have observed them, we have indicated by cross-references in the descriptions that follow. Thus the Lucan and the Boccaccio (nos. 33, 57) are bound and lettered alike; the Albertus, the Aristotele, and the Leo (nos. 2, 5, 30) are lettered alike on the back; the Diodorus and the Ovid (nos. 14, 99), are bound and lettered alike, etc.

Every manuscript is a human document and presents an individual history. The manuscript of Gerard's Distinctiones (no. 22) states that it was copied from his original at Siena by an Augustinian named Martucius, who began the task in 1466, when he was Magister Studentium, "at a time of great persecution and trial," and completed it on September 7, 1468, "at a time of great tranquillity and peace." Other subscriptions report its subsequent fortunes. It remained at the Convent of Prato until a visitor from Naples took possession of it and carried it off to Naples. Brother Augustinus of Prato happened to visit Naples some time after, and to him the Neopolitan, "conscientia forte motus," returned the manuscript. On June 19, 1520, Augustinus recorded these facts in the recovered manuscript, and expressed the pious intention of examining the whole of it, and at his death bequeathing it to his convent at Prato. . But a further subscription, dated October 24, 1522, shows that two years later the manuscript passed into the hands of Brother Herennius, who had given Augustinus in exchange for it the Epistles of Paul, and writings of Thomas of Argentina and Gregory of Ariminum, well-known Augustinian authorities. Beyond this point the movements of the manuscript are obscure, but this sketch of its fortunes for half a century gives curious glimpses of contemporary life. Other manuscripts are not less quaintly interesting, and will invite closer study, textual or historical, from the departments to which they relate.

This Catalogue is published in connection with the dedication of the Harper Memorial Library, June 11, 1912. Our thanks are due to Karl Pietsch, James Westfall Thompson, Charles Henry Beeson, Chester Nathan Gould, and Tiemen de Vries, members of the University faculties, for many helpful suggestions on various manuscripts, upon which we sought their expert opinions. To the President of the University, the Director of the Libraries, and the Director of the Press, we are especially indebted for the interest they have shown in the publication of the Catalogue at this time, when, with the opening of the Harper Memorial Library, the University's manuscripts are at last transferred to secure and permanent quarters in the Manuscript Room.

1. ALBERTI, De Re Aedificatoria.

Paper, ff. 284, cm. 30.5×20.5, single columns, 25–41 lines. 32 quires, of 10, except 3d, 9th, 16th, 19th, 20th, 26th, 28th, 30th (8), and 15th, 18th, 22d, 23d, and 25th (6). Irregular leaf numbering within quires. Several hands have worked on the manuscript, the several quires being the work of different scribes, and the hand sometimes changing in the course of a page. Berlin Purchase no. 34. Probably century XV.

Label: wanting. The tooled and gilded back of the red leather binding bears no name, but a rectangular paper label at the bottom is marked LXIII; cf. nos. 5, 11, 51, 52, 65.

Contents: Leone Alberti (1404–72 [80]), De Re Aedificatoria, libri X. On the verso of the 3d fly-leaf a later hand has written Vitruvii Architectura, but over Vitruvii another hand has written Leonis Alberti.

1. Introduction, ff. 1a–4a. Incip.: Multas et varias artes que ad vitam bene et beate agendum faciant.—Explic.: nam primi quidem libri titulus.

2. The treatise De Re Aedificatoria, ten books, ff. 4b–281b. Incip.: De lineamentis aedificiorum conscripturi optima et elegantissima.—Explic.: ut digniores multoque elegantiores habeantur. Deo Gratias. Τέλος.

Lib. 1, ff. 4b–28a. Incip.: De lineamentis aedificiorum.

Lib. 2, ff. 28a–53b. Incip.: Opus aedificiorum atque impensam.

Lib. 3, ff. 53b–82b. Incip.: Omnis astruendi operis ratio.

Lib. 4, ff. 82b–104b. Incip.: Edificia . . . esse . . . constituta.

Lib. 5, ff. 104b–138a. Incip.: Operum varietates cum intra urbe.

Lib. 6, ff. 138b–162b. Incip.: [L]ineamenta et materiam operum.

Lib. 7, ff. 162b–194b. Incip.: Rem edificatoriam constare.

Lib. 8, ff. 194b–218a. Incip.: Ornamenta que operibus adhibeantur.

Lib. 9, ff. 218a–243a. Incip.: Meminisse oportet privatorum edificiorum.

Lib. 10, ff. 243a–281b. Incip.: Fide operum vitiis emandandis.

There are large plain initials in blue at the beginning of the introduction and of Bk. 1, and spaces have been left for them at the beginnings of the other books. At the foot of f. 150b is written Scriptum Manu Cancellarii Ex(cellen?)tis Regni Siciliae Cancellarii. A corrector's notes, in a square heavy hand, are found throughout in the margins. F. 221 is blank except for the words satis conscendendi and a cross covering the recto; the text continues with satis conscendendi on the following f. After this point various scribes have numbered 3 to 10 leaves of their own quires.

2. ALBERTUS MAGNUS, De Homine.

Paper, ff. 339, cm. 29×21.5, single columns, 32–37 lines. 29 quires, of 12, except the 1st, a prefatory quire unnumbered (3). The quires, except the first, were numbered 1°–28° at the foot of the last verso, but some of these have been trimmed away. Occasional marginal rulings. Ff. 2a–3b and 339b blank. Berlin Purchase. Probably century XV.

Label: Albertus de Homine.—Above, 125 and 101; below, Stipo 3. Below, an oval label, like that on nos. 6, 12, 14, 17, 18, 39, 47, 54, 63, 65, numbered 101. On the under edges, Alber(tus) de Homine. Remains of two brass clasps. Binding, blue leather over boards. Yellow edges. The name-label is like that on nos. 5 and 30.

Contents: Albertus Magnus, De Homine. 252 chapters.

Title, in a hand smaller and probably later than the text: Albertus de homine, f. 4a. Incip.: [C]onsequenter transeundum est ad querendum de homine.—Explic.: non est intendi sed in substantia continuari.

Ff. 1a–2a supply a gap in cap. 51: Incip.: de anima ubi dicitur color est.—Explic., f. 2a: sed ut perfectionem visus et visibilis secundum quod est visibile et secundum quod est visus adactum.

At the top of f. 1, a note in another hand reads: Istud vult esse infra c. 51 ubi tale signum. A drawing of a face follows. On f. 87a, the same face appears, with this note: hic deficit quod est scriptum supra in principio libri per unam cartam cum dimidia. Spaces have been left for large initials, but these have not been supplied.

Within the first cover, a modern hand has written Albertus Magnus; and inside the last a price mark in lire is penciled.

The voluminous works of Albertus Magnus (1193–1280), the Doctor Universalis of the Schoolmen, were first published by Peter Jammy, at Lyons, in 1651.

3. ALBERTUS THEOTONICUS (TEUTONICUS?), ROBERTUS ANGLICUS, ET AL., Tractatus Mathematici et Philosophici.

Paper, ff. 68, cm. 29.9×22.1, rough edges, 2 columns, 65 (66), 42–45 lines, in 8 quires, 1st of 4, 2d of 2, 3d and 8th of 12, 4th to 6th of 10, and 7th of 8. Column rulings in quires 3–8, sometimes on both sides; quire signatures (quires 4–8), lower right-hand corner of last verso. Berlin Purchase? Century XV.

Contents: A collection of mathematical and philosophical treatises.

1. Tractatus proportionum alberti theotonici (= teutonicus?) (wrongly superscribed by a later hand, latitudines formarum, cf. the Explic. f. 4 (41)a, col. 2): ff. 1–4*a* (38–41*a*). Incip.: Proportio communiter accepta est.—Explic.: corolaria ad quorum illustrationem supersedeo causam brevitatis et est finis huius deo gratias Amen.

2. Latitudines formarum, ff. 4*a*, col. 2,—6*a* (41*a*–43*a*). Incip.: [Q]uia latitudines formarum multipliciter variantur.—Explic.: occurrere et ideo transeo etc. deo gratias Amen Amen.

3. Compilatio super tractatu de spera edita a fratre roberto anglico ordinis praedicatorum qui super totam loycam (=logicam) scripsit qui fuit magister in theologia postea archiepiscopus cartusiensis(is?) et demum cardinalis (cf. the Explic. f. 18*b*=56*b*), ff. 7–18 (45–56). Probably Robert Grosseteste (Capito). Incip.: Una scientia est nobilior alia.—Explic.: idem satis declaratus etc. Deo gratias Amen.

4. A collection of notabilia dicta averroys, ff. 19–64 (57–128). A. From his commentary super primo de anima, ff. 19–28 (57–66). Incip.: [A]rtes. Incomplete, Explic.: Actuum et passuum videntur(?) esse quodammodo opposita. Commento 33.—In the lower right-hand corner the beginning of the next quire is written: Innuit, etc. But the next quire begins dicta.

B. From his commentary super 2^o metaphisiae ff. 29–52 (77–100). Incip.: Commentum primum. [Quia] ista scientia perscrutatur. The colophon at the end of this section, f. 81*b*, col. 1, makes these dicta come from Averrhoes super primum et 2^m. li. metha^{ae}, quos in commentando intermiscuit. There follow in order the comments on Lib. 3–7.—Explic.: substantiales generales et . . . commento 9^o.

C. Super libro coligeth ff. 58–64 (122–128). Incip.: [E]t dicimus quod ars medicinae.—Explic.: ramificate sicut arterie co. ca^o.

There are three different hands, one in the Tractatus proportionum and Latitudines formarum, another in the Compilatio, the third in the Dicta of Averrhoes. These were probably written as separate manuscripts; the watermarks, too, differ. Moreover on the verso of f. 6 (43) at the top is written: Iste carte omnes sunt numero 60. But a folio numbering inserted before the loss of the quire from the Averrhoes material, in the same hand throughout binds this heterogeneous material together into one volume. It runs from 38–43, 45–66, 77–104, 121–128. Probably between 104 and 121 another quire of similar material (Averrhoes) has been lost. Another hand has numbered ff. 3–6 in the lower right-hand corner of the verso (f. 3) or recto (4–6) from 96–99. Marginal notes are inserted sometimes by the writer, sometimes (in the Compilatio) by another hand. Ff. numbered 101–104, 121 and two ff. after 128 are left entirely blank. On the verso of the next to the last and the recto of the last ff. a later hand than any in the manuscript has written a number of Latin verses on various subjects. Space has been left for large initials, but few of these have been inserted.

4. SEXTIUS AMARCIUS GALLUS, De Virtutibus Patrum et Posteriorum Vitiis, libri IV.

Paper, ff. 66, cm. 21×17.5, pages numbered (1, 2) 3–131 (132). 9 quires, of 8, except the 5th (6) and 9th (4), single columns, 23–25 lines. Both margins ruled. Century XVIII.

Label: Amarcus.—Pasteboard binding. Numbered 2509 on upper right-hand corner of front cover.

Contents: Title: Sexti Amarcii Galli Libri IV De virtutibus patrum et posteriorum vitiis, f. 1a.—Below, in a later hand, De opere et codice cf. Eberti notitia ms. codicum Dresdensium p. 239–241.—Below, in pencil, Iterum conferatur cum codice ms. m. Apr. 1834.

Incip.: Incipit epistola Sexti Amarcii Galli Piosistrati ad candidum Theopystium alchimum. Virtutem norma theopysti culte decora, f. 2a (=p. 3).

Incipit liber primus Sexti Amarcii Epilogus: De virtutibus patrum et posteriorum vitiis. Quem bis natorum semel ex genitrice fecundo (f. 3a=p. 5).—Explic.: Carmina vocalis justorum concio pangit. Explicit Liber Amarcii f. 65b, p. 130 (131).

The manuscript is concluded with 22 lines, De quatripartita conjunctione (ff. 65b, 66a=pp. 130, 131). Incip.: Est quatripartita cordis conjunctio tota, p. 130.—Explic.: Commemorans saepe talia sollicitae, p. 131.

On the inner front cover, 208 is written in red pencil. Sections of lines and portions of words omitted probably because illegible in the exemplar, are marked by pencil strokes in the margin.

5. ARISTOTELES, De Moribus ad Nicomachum.

Paper, heavy and handsome, ff. 79, cm. 28.7×22, single columns, 33 to 36 lines, 8 quires, of 10, except the 8th (9). Ff. 76b–79b blank. Quire letters A–H and f. numbers 1–5 at lower right-hand corner of first five rectos of each quire. There is a continuous leaf numbering from a later hand. Rulings on both sides. Name-label as on nos. 2, 30. Berlin Purchase no. 10. Probably century XV.

Label: Aristotelis Moralia.—Old library numbers, 150, and in a later hand, CXII, stand on the back; cf. nos. 1, 11, 51, 52, 65.

Contents: Aristotle's Ethics, ten books, in the Latin version of Iohannes A(r)gyropylus. Incip.: [O]mnis ars omnisque doctrina atque actus.—Explic.: Hec itaque aggredientes deinceps dicamus. (Lib. 10, Tract. 2, Cap. 4.) At the head of f. 1a, stands this title in red: Liber aristotilis de moribus ad nichomachum quem iohannes Agyropylus byzantius gratia magnifici cosme medicis florentini traduxit. The reference is to Cosimo de' Medici, 1389–1464.

Spaces have been left for large initials, but these have not been supplied. Book, treatise, and chapter headings are in red.

The books occupy the following folia:

Lib. 1, ff. 1a- 8a.	Lib. 6, ff. 37b-43b.
Lib. 2, ff. 8a-13a.	Lib. 7, ff. 43b-52b.
Lib. 3, ff. 13a-21a.	Lib. 8, ff. 52b-60a.
Lib. 4, ff. 21a-29a.	Lib. 9, ff. 60a-67b.
Lib. 5, ff. 29a-37b.	Lib. 10, ff. 67b-76a.

There are various notes: on the inside of the front cover, in pencil, in German script, 76 beschr(iebene) Bl(ätter). On the last verso, in pencil, a price-mark in Marks. On the same page, in red, Questo libro e di Gi. . . Japrrato. The name has been crossed out.

6. BALDUS DE PERUSIO, Consilia de Iure.

Paper, ff. xiii+151, cm. 30×22.5, double columns, 40-42 lines. 8 quires, of 20, except the 1st (12) and 6th, 7th, and 8th (18). Margin rulings on both sides. Ff. ixa-xiiib, 149a-151b blank. Berlin Purchase no. 32. Century XV.

Label: wanting. The manuscript has lost its cover.—At the foot of the back is an oval paper label, like that on nos. 2, 12, 14, 17, 18, 39, 47, 54, 63, 65, inscribed 41.

Contents: Baldus de Perusio, Consilia de Iure.

1. Repertorium Infra scriptorum consiliorum eminentissimi utriusque iuris doctoris domini Baldi de Perusio dum in facto occurrerent de iure consulentis, in summa referens quid unumquidque consiliorum ipsorum in effectu contineat videlicet.—clx titles follow, ff. iia-viiiib.

2. Incipiunt consilia domini Baldi de perusio et aliorum quam plurimorum doctorum, ff. 1a-148b. Incip.: Factum Intelligo sub ista forma.—Explic.: de tutela. Baldus deo gratias Amen Amen.

Ff. i-iv have suffered some mutilation, through damp and neglect. A later hand has annotated the text at many points. In the formulas the name of Baldus occurs most frequently; et ita dico ego Baldus; but other names appear; Petrus de Perusio, f. 13b; Honofrius de Perusio, legum doctor, f. 13b; Angelus de Perusio (i.e., de Ubaldis? flor. 1423) legum doctor, f. 14a; Angelus de Merianis decretorum doctor, f. 33a; Iacobus de Belviso (i.e., Belloviso? flor. 1270) f. 43b; Franciscus de Altergotis, f. 37b, and again in the form Franciscus de Altergoctis de Arcio (Francesco Accolti, 1418-83), ff. 55b, 84a, 93a; Franciscus de Ramporibus, f. 109a; Iohannes de Lignano, (flor. 1380) ib., and f. 117a; Antonius de Praesebris, f. 109a; Iohannes de Casali, ib.; Paganinus de Sala, ff. 123a, 144a; Bartholus de Saxoferrato (†1355), ff. 81a, 93b, 113a; cf. f. 108a; Angelus de Castellono, f. 144a; Iacobus Bructicarius (i.e., de Bugtrigariis? flor. 1320) f. 137b; and some others. F. 13b has a date: In Anno domini M° CCC° LXXX de mense Iulii 26, along with others. References to Extracta de casibus legis longobarde are made on f. 5a.

7. BENEDICTUS XIV, Iustitie et Pacis.

Parchment, ff. 38, cm. 34×24.5, single columns, 21 lines. 3 quires, 1st and 2d of 12, 3d of 14. The writing extends to the insides of both parchment covers. Berlin Purchase no. 44. 1746.

Label: none. At top of front cover, Num. 64. In middle of back cover, Registrata in Secretaria Brevium.

Contents: Bull of Benedict XIV, Iustitie et Pacis. Incip. (front cover, verso): Benedictus ep(iscopu)s Servus Servorum Dei Ad Perpetuam Rei Memoriam. Iustitie et Pacis Custodes et Adsertores non solum in Universa Ecclesia Christi.—Explic. (f. 38b): Datum Rome apud sanctam Mariam Maiorem anno incarnationis Dominice millesimo septingentesimo quadragésimo sexto, Sexto Nonas Octobris Pontificatus Nostri Anno Septimo.

Visa	Pro D(omi)no Cardinali Passioneo
De curia I. C. Boschi	Ioannes Florius Substitutus
Ib. Eugenius
Ducat(i) Decem et Iul(hatum?) Unum.

Of the last two lines, the first is in the elaborate hand of the manuscript, the second in ordinary cursive. This last is perhaps the copyist's fee. The great leaden seal (bulla) of Benedict XIV is attached to the book by a silken cord of red and yellow, the Papal colors, marking the document as "in forma gratiosa." Cardinal Passioneo was at this time Librarian of the Holy See. Benedict became pope in 1740. The hand is of the most exaggerated type, and great florid pen and ink capitals stand at the head of every page. Similar signatures appear in Bullarium Romanum, Acta Benedicti XIV, vols. I and II.

8. BENEDICTUS DE PERUSIO, ANGELUS DE ARECIO, ET AL., Rubricae.

Paper, ff. 143, cm. 31.5×21.5, single columns, 46–48 lines. Leaves numbered 99–238; nos. 122, 123, after being given to blank leaves, are repeated. 16 quires of 12, except nos. 1, 9, 14, 15 (10); 2 (9); 8, 10, 16 (8); 3 (6); 4, 5 (2). Ff. 113b–117b, 121a–123b, 125b, 167b, 179b–187b, 238b–239b are blank. Century XV (probably 1400–1450).

Label: wanting.

Contents: Rubricae, mostly testamentary: Benedictus de Perusio, De Testamentis, ff. 99b (a?)–107a; De Heredibus Instituendis, ff. 107b–108a; De Contrariis Tabulis, ff. 109a–113a; De Codicillis, ff. 118a–120b; Angelus de Arecio, De Legatis, ff. 122a–179a; (the same?) Ad Trebellia, ff. 188a–238a. Incip.: Furiosum iri suis iri. Furiosus habens dillicuda intervalla.—Explic.: ita voluit Baldus in dicta auct(oritativa?) contra (?) rogat(um?) in principio secunda collumna.

The parchment reinforcement in the folds of the later quires is from a Latin Psalter, beautifully written in two very narrow columns.

Some names are given in headings and colophons written in capitals by the first hand. On f. 120b, at the close of the section of text: Hic tractatus codicillorum co(m)pilat(us) est per D. Meum Benedictum de Parmis de Perusio Utriusque Monarcham (Benedetto Capra, ca. 1400?).—At the head of f. 122a: De Legatis Et Fidey Conmissis Primo.—At the head of f. 126a: Rubrica de Fidey Conmissis et 1 c. 1°.—At the end of the section of text, f. 179a: Hic Est Finis Hujus Legis. Nemo Potest. De Legatis Primo Repetite Per D. Meum A(n)gelum De Arecio Famosissimum Legum Doctorem (Angelo Gambighioni, †1461?).—At the head of f. 188a: Rub(ri)ca.—In the upper right-hand corner of this, and many later rectos, is minutely written: Ad Trebellia, usually much abbreviated.—Another hand has written at the head of f. 99a: Hic incipiunt collecte d. benedicti de perusio. In a smaller hand, at the head of f. 109a, dominus Alafrancus de ariano repetii. . . . This must be Chevalier's Lanfranc d'Oriano, 1472, and this note of his fixes the general period of the manuscript. In another hand, opposite the title De Legatis, etc., f. 122a: Angeli de Aretio. There are occasional marginal notes in early hands.

9. BERNARDUS CLAREVALENIS, De Consideratione.

Paper, ff. 42, cm. 21.3×15, single columns, 36–40 lines. 5 quires, of 8 except the 5th (10). Quire signatures have been for the most part trimmed away in rebinding. No rulings. Century XV.

Label: Ms. XIII s[aec(uli)].—The binding, brown leather over boards, is tooled all over with a stag, an agnus dei, and a fleur-de-lis. There are two brass clasps.

Contents: Bernard of Clairvaux, De Consideratione, five books.

Title: Incipit tractatus Bernardi abbatis clarevalensis de consideratione. ad eugenium papam. L. 1.—Incip.: Subit animum dictantem aliquid quod te papa beatissime eugenium vel edificet vel delectet.—Explic.: Proinde is sit finis libri sed non finis querendi.

Lib. 1, ff. 1a–7b.

Lib. 2, ff. 7b–16a.

Lib. 3, ff. 16a–23a.

Lib. 4, ff. 23a–30b.

Lib. 5, ff. 30b–42a.

There are various notes in later hands: on f. 42b, at the top, Mss du 13^e siècle; at the bottom, 86, and a name (F. Marcel?).—Within the front cover, xiv^e Siècle. 1 vol. manss. 36#.—In another hand, G, and below D.—In another hand, F. Franciscus Martin Minor Coclericus (?) Theologus Parisiensis qui supra 1719.

10. BLASIUS DE PARMA, Questiones super Libro Methaurorum.

Paper, ff. ii+37, cm. 30×22.5, double columns, 46–48 lines, 3 quires, the 1st of 14, 2d of 3, 3d of 22. Margin rulings on both sides. Ff. 1b and 2b are blank. Berlin Purchase no. 25. Century XV.

Label: wanting. The manuscript has lost its cover.

Contents: Title (in a late hand) Blasius de Parma. Incip.: f. 1a: Circa principium libri methaurorum Queritur primo Utrum mundus generabilium et corporabilium gubernetur a celo.—Explic., f. 37b: Et sit finis omnium questionum circa librum methaurorum et omnium aliorum librorum methaurorum Aristotelis cum laude et gloria christi qui vivit et regnat in secula seculorum amen amen amen.

Expliciunt questiones super libro methaurorum aristotelis quas compilavit Magister Blasius de parma complete et scripte per Magistrum Iohannem de medicis de yt°.

Ff. 1a–5b, questiones 1–4, super libro primo.

Ff. 6a–17a, questiones 1b–8, super libro secundo.

Ff. 17a–31a, questiones 1–9, super libro tertio.

Ff. 31a–37b, questiones 1–7, super libro quarto.

There is a gap, covering perhaps 2 ff., in the middle of the first quire, between ff. 5b and 6a. The scribe began the text on f. iia, but stopped after 23 lines, and began afresh on f. 1a. In the outer upper corner of f. iia stands a note in four short lines. On f. ia a late hand has written, Vidit Celius Riccardus.

This discussion of the Meteorologica of Aristotle is anti-Aristotelian in tone, and probably represents the Platonist reaction fostered by the Medici.

11. CALDERINUS, Commentaria in Martialem.

Parchment, ff. 132, cm. 32.6×24.5. Single columns, 30 lines. 13 gatherings of 10, except the 3d (4) which has lost 3, and the 12th (8) which has lost its fifth pair. The 2d and 3d were wrongly bound, the leaves running 21, 20, 11–19, 22–24; they have now (1910) been correctly rearranged. The loss in quire 12 is noted in no very late hand in the margin, f. 119: deficient duo paginae. Some gatherings are lost before f. 1 and probably 3 quires between ff. 10 and 11. From f. 25 the manuscript is continuous to f. 90, most of which leaf has been cut out; thence again through f. 118, after which 2 leaves are wanting; and thence again to the end, from which other quires may have been lost. The manuscript is properly made, flesh sides facing flesh sides. Rulings on the hair side. Berlin Purchase no. 18. Probably century XV.

Label: XXXII on a paper slip at the foot of the back, as in nos. 1, 5, 51, 52, 65.

Contents: Domitii Calderini Commentaria in Martialem ab epigrammato XLI libri III ad epigramma XXXI libri XIII. (So a modern hand on inside of cover.) More exactly, the manuscript covers in whole or in part Epigrams 3:34, 40 (41)—4:3; 5:78—6:45; 7:4—12; 7:26—35; 7:53—(11:9—17 mutilated) 12:78; 13:1—31; 14:127—207 in the order given below. The missing portions are 1:1—3:33; 1:35—39; 4:4—5:77; 6:46—7:3; 7:13—52; 12:79—98; 13:32—127; 14:1—126; 14:208—223. Incip.: ut nix, sed non esse chionem quia nigra est et non candida, f. 1a.—Explic.: De grege vestino. id est ex ovibus vestinis, f. 132b.

In more detail: ff. 1—10 deal with 3:34, 40 (41)—4:3; ff. 11—20, with 5:78—6:45; f. 21 with 7:4—12; ff. 22, 23 with 7:26—35; f. 24 with 7:53—58. From this point the Commentary continues without interruption to f. 90 (11:9—17), most of which has been cut out; thence again without interruption through f. 118 (12:78). While only 2 leaves seem to be lost at this point, there is a much larger gap in the Commentary, 12:79—98, and the exemplar may have been defective or disordered here, for ff. 119a—127b supply 14:127—207, which is followed on ff. 128a—132b by 13:1—31. The hand and finish suggest an Italian origin.

The quoted words from the Epigrams are in red. There are now 733 large marginal initials, illuminated in colors and gold leaf. A few have been cut out of the manuscript. The parchment is of good quality. The wrong initials have in many cases been supplied by the illuminator, and the order of epigrams is not always the same as that, e.g., of W. M. Lindsay's edition (Oxford, 1902) which we have followed in the numbering of the epigrams above. The second printed edition of Martial (Rome 1473, fol.) was accompanied by the Commentary of D. Calderini who in 1475 produced a commentary on Juvenal (cf. Friedländer, D. Iunii Iuvenalis Saturarum Libri V, 1895, p. 96).

12. SEXTUS CLODIUS, Fasti.

M. MESSALA, De Bello Troiano.

SEXTUS RUFUS, De urbe opusculum.

LEONARDUS ARETINUS, Vita Ciceronis.

Paper, ff. 46, cm. 33×23, single columns, 28 lines, 6 gatherings, of 8. The last two leaves have been torn from the last quire, being probably blank. Berlin Purchase no. 20. Probably century XV—XVI.

Label: Sexti Clodii Fasti M. Messala. Sextus Rufus. Leonardus Aretinus.—Below (on a paper slip like that on nos. 2, 6, 14, 17, 18, 39, 47, 54, 63, 65), 171. On the front parchment cover, at the top,

Sex. Clodi Fasti.

Sex. Rufi de urbe opusculum.

Leonardi Aretini Vita Ciceronis.

Contents: Sextus Clodius, Fasti, Parts of Lib. 6 and 7. M. Messala, De bello Troiano. Sextus Rufus, De urbe opusculum. Leonardus Aretinus, Vita Ciceronis.

On fly-leaf 1a: Sex. Clodius Fastos graece scripsit: un(de?) testimonium Citat inst. divinarum libro primo Lactantius agens de Fatua. The same again on fly-leaf 2b (Lactantius).

At the foot of f. 1a, a hand later than that of the manuscript has added this Index.

Sexti Clodii Fasti	M. Messalae liber de bello Trojano
Sexti Rufi de urbe opusculum.	Leonardi Aretini Praefatio in Cicerone novo ad Nicolaum, sive Ciceronis vita ab Aretino scripta.

Nicolaus is doubtless Pope Nicholas V, 1389-1455, the patron of the humanists.

1. Sextus Clodius, Fasti. Lib. 6, ff. 1a-12b. Incip.: De nominibus illorum qui civitatem romanam primitus condiderunt. Et primo de Noe primo urbis conditore rubrica. [M]odum constructionis et dispositionis Urbis Romanae demonstrat.

Lib. 7, ff. 13a-14a. Incip.: Explicit liber sextus. Incipit septimus. Prohemium. Inter alios antiqui operis lectionarios.—Explic.: Unde illum poeta capitolii reliqua desiderantur.

2. M. Messala, De bello Troiano. Ff. 15a-22b. Incip.: M. Messala De bello Troiano ad Caesarem Augustum liber incipit. Cum frequenter me digna moveat.—Explic.: Aeternum Vale saeculi perenne ac immortale decus Caesar Auguste: Finis.

3. Sextus Rufus, De urbe opusculum. Ff. 23a-25b. Incip.: Sexti Rufi de urbe opusculum. Regio prima porta Capena continet aedem Honoris.—Explic.: mensae oleariae per totam urbem duo M. CCCC: Finis.

4. Leonardus Aretinus, Vita Ciceronis. Ff. 26a-46b. Incip.: Leonardi Aretini Orat. Clariss. Praefatio in Cicerone novo ad Nicolaum. Ocioso mihi nuper.—Explic.: ignominioseque perierunt. Ciceronis Vita per Leonardum Aretinum contexta.

The interior of the manuscript has been much injured by damp and pressure. There are many notes in the margins, especially copious for the last work, which have been partially trimmed away in a former rebinding. Two fragments of an annotated legal(?) work in Latin have been used in the binding, and Professor Beeson has recognized their script as that of Monte Cassino.

13. ASCANIUS COLUMNA AND CAESAR BARONIUS, De Monarchia Siciliae.

Paper, ff. 33, cm. 26×20. (Ff. 1-3 and 33 being blank, the leaves have been numbered beginning with the 4th; 29b is numbered 30.

This numbering we have followed below.) Single columns, 23 lines, 8 quires of 4, preceded by a fly-leaf. Rulings for side margins, for the inner margins on the recto, for the outer on the verso. Berlin Purchase no. 48. Century XVII.

Label: none. The leaves are without a cover.

Contents: Opinion of Cardinal Colonna upon views expressed by Baronius de Monarchia Siciliae, in the 11th volume of his Annales, with Baronius' reply and defense.

1. Ascanii Cardinalis Columnae, eorum quae Caesar Cardinalis Baronius de Monarchia Siciliae scripsit iudicium, ff. 1a-4b. After this title, Incip.: Obtulisti mihi ex hispania redeunti, xi. ac postremum typis impressum historiarum tuarum Thomum. Plurimis rogasti precibus, ut quae de Siciliae Monarchia scripseras, excurrerem attentius, et quae mea de illis esset sententia, libere declararem.—Explic.: speroque fore ut ea quae ego amore ac christiana pietate, et legi et scripsi, eadem tu, et oblata excipias, et legas excepta.

2. Cardinalis Baronii responsio apologetica adversus Cardinalis Columnae iudicium de Siciliae Monarchia in xi. Annal. tom., ff. 5a-26b. After this title, Incip.: Lubrica res est concordia fratrum.—Explic.: etiam quotidiani foeneris cumulanda perpetuo servaturum.

3. Letter of Baronius to Philip III of Spain, ff. 27a-29b (numbered 30-). Incip.: Sacra Regia Catholica Maiestas. Non ante creationem Summi Pontif(icis) eiusdemque aetate.—Explic.: valeat semper Deo placens, hominibusque proficiens Catholica Maiestas vestra. Datum in Tusculano. Idibus Iunii 1605. Catholicae Maiestati vestrae additissimus servus Caesar Cardinalis Baronius.

Baronius (1538-1607) undertook his Annales Ecclesiastici at the order of his superior Philip Neri, and published them in twelve volumes, 1588-1607. His attitude on the Spanish pretensions to the possession of Sicily offended Spain, and Spanish opposition prevented his election as Pope, 1607.

Watermark: An agnus dei within a double circle: on the outer circle above the lamb, the letter A.—In the fly-leaf: a fowl within a circle.

14. DIODORUS SICULUS, Bibliotheca.

Paper, ff. 200, cm. 28.3×20.5, in 20 quires, of 10; single columns of 30 lines. The hand that numbered the leaves made an error at f. 52, which is numbered 51. Rulings on one side only. Berlin Purchase no. 11. Probably century XV.

Label: Diodor. Sic. Poggii Florentin. Codex Cartac. Below, 94, on a paper label like that of nos. 2, 6, 12, 17, 18, 39, 47, 54, 63, 65.

Contents: Diodorus Siculus, Library of History, six books, in the Latin version of Poggio of Florence.

1. Prohemium in libros Diodori Siculi quos Poggius Florentinus latinos fecit ad Nicolaum Quintum Summum Pontificem. Ff. 1a-2a. Incip.: [I]ulius antea quantum vis praeclarus rerum scriptor fuit, sanctissime pater.—Explic.: Sed iam ipse diodorus loquatur.

2. Diodori Siculi Historiarum Priscarum a Poggio in latinum traducti incipit liber primus. F. 2a.

Lib. 1, ff. 2a-23a. Incip.: [M]agnas merito gratias rerum scriptoribus homines debent.

Lib. 2, ff. 23a-50a. This and the remaining books have a table of contents prefixed to each.

Lib. 3, ff. 50a-77b.

Lib. 4, ff. 78a-114b.

Lib. 5, ff. 114b-157a.

Lib. 6, ff. 157a-200b. Explic.: Quibus de rebus suo loco scribetur a nobis. Finis.

A later hand has supplied frequent marginal notes designed as guides to the contents. Space has occasionally been left for large initials, which have not been supplied. There are small marginal capitals, which have been touched up in red. The manuscript is probably some little time later than the time of Pope Nicholas V (1447-55) to whom the translation is addressed, f. 1a. A cardinal's arms (those of Pius VI halved ["impaled"] with a lion rampant) are stamped upon the binding; cf. the arms of Pius VI, on the bindings of Glycas, Georgius Hamartolus, and de Rancé (nos. 47-49, 65).

15. DIODEGENES LAERTIUS, De Vita et Moribus Philosophorum.

Paper, ff. 192, cm. 29×21.7, single columns, 34 lines. 20 quires of 10, except the 20th (2). Rulings on one side only. A single parchment fly-leaf at the beginning gives a table of contents, in a less careful hand (double columns). Handsomely illuminated initials on ff. 1a, 2a. Berlin Purchase no. 12. Probably century XV.

Label: wanting.

Contents: Diogenes Laertius, De Vita et Moribus Philosophorum, ten books, in a Latin version of Ambrose of Camaldoli.

1. The parchment fly-leaf gives the contents in detail and by pages. Incip.: Diogenis Laertii Tabula, librorum decem, de vitis ac sententiis, eorum qui in philosophia claruerunt.—Explic.: Finis huiuscae operis tabulae a me camillo brunello Theri scriptae atque compositae, etc. vale. In another hand, Saeculi [[XIV aut]] XV. Another hand has deleted XIV aut, and added a flourish.

2. Incipit Prefatio Ambrosii monachi Chamaldulensis in libro Laertii Diogenis de vita et moribus philosophorum ad Cosmam Medicem. (Doubtless Cosimo de' Medici, 1389-1464.)

Volventi mihi quedam greca volumina venit ad manus Laertii Diogenis de philosophis prolixum opus, ff. 1a-2a.

3. Laertii Diogenis vite atque sententiae eorum qui in philosophia claruerunt. Philosophiam a barbaris initia sumpsisse plerique autumant, ff. 2a-5a. There follow, Lib. 1, ff. 5a-20b, lives of Thales Milesius, Solon Salaminus, Chilo, Pittacus, Bias Prieneus, Cleobolus, Periander, Anacharsis, Myson, Epimenides, Pherecides.

Lib. 2, ff. 21a-44a: Anaximander, Anaximenes, Anaxagoras, Archelaus, Socrates, Xenophon, Aeschines, Aristippus, Theodorii, Phedon, Euclides, Stilpo, Crito, Simon, Glaucus, Simmias, Cebes, Menedemus.

Lib. 3, ff. 44a-60a: Plato.

Lib. 4, ff. 60a-71a: Speusippus, Xenocrates, Polemo, Crates, Crantor, Archesilaus, Bion, Lacides, Carneades, Clitomachus.

Lib. 5, ff. 71a-85b: Aristoteles, Theophrastus, Strato, Lycon, Demetrius Phalereus, Heraclides.

Lib. 10, ff. 168a-192b: Epicurus.

Explic.: lamentis prosecuti non sunt defuncti celeriore obitu.

Laertii diogenis de vitis atque sententiis eorum qui in philosophia claruerunt liber decimus et ultimus explicit feliciter. Finis.

Some spaces are left for words which the scribe probably found illegible in his exemplar, e.g., ff. 106b-109b, 112b-113a, 114b, etc. Some marginal notes. One, in red like the titles and superscriptions, after the conclusion of Lib. 7 on f. 134b reads: Deesse videtur multum in septimo libro, sed ita habetur in greco exemplari. On the inside of the first cover, a hand different from those of the manuscript has written traversavi. On the inside of the last cover is penciled a price mark in lire; also a note of six lines in ink: Al mio magnifico e honorando Sa^{lm} a li chi passati Io pier martiro stichi In . . . monte Santo Martino, etc.

16. Epistola Conventus Carthusiensis Sancti Salvatoris Erfordi.

Parchment. f. 1, cm. 13×14.3, once glued face downward as a guard inside the back cover of Hieronymus in Ysayam (no. 25). One wide column, 12 lines, mutilated at beginnings by trimming. Written in 1441, at Erfurt, the sheet was used probably in 1442 in the binding of the Hieronymus manuscript, which was written in 1442, and belonged to the same convent.

Label: wanting.

Contents: Address by the Carthusian Convent of The Holy Savior, at Erfurt, 1441.—As this is brief, and has the interest of an original document, its text is given in full.

The contents in detail are:

1. The so-called Obtestatio Eusebii, beginning Adiuro te quicumque hos descripseris libros, etc. F. 1a.

2. Prefatio Hyeronimi: Eusebius Hyeronimus Vincentio et Galieno suis salutem. Ff. 1a-2a.

3. Incipit Eusebii interpretata prefatio. Ff. 2a-3b.

4. Interpretatio sancti Hyeronimi De nominibus gentium felicissime Amen sic ordiens. Ff. 3b-4b.

5. Exordium libri feliciter incipit. Ff. 4b-7a.

6. The Chronicle. Ff. 7a-44b. (The "Series Regum" usual at the beginning does not appear.) From Anno Mundi ca. 3100 to 5646. Incip.: Regnum assiriorum. Primus omni asie regnavit Ninus. F. 7a. —Explic.: Valentiniano vi et Nono consulibus. (Anno Mundi) 5646. Hic finit prosper post hieronimum. Explicit cronica Eusebii Hieronimi Prosperi.

Gratias Domino nostro Iesu Christo Amen

Fifteen lines following give lengths and limits of various periods, and last of all the date of the manuscript as above, A.D. 1455, A.M. 6654.

The Chronica falls into three parts:

(1) Eusebius, ff. 7a-36a (A.M. 5520). Hactenus Eusebius. Deinceps Hyeronimus.

(2) Hieronymus, ff. 36b-38b (ca. A.M. 5520-5580). Hucusque Hieronimus.

(3) Prosper of Aquitaine, ff. 38b-44b (ca. A.M. 5580-5646). Hic finit prosper post hieronimum.

F. 1a exhibits two interesting capitals, of no great elegance. The fly-leaf in the back shows a penciled pricemark in lire.

18. EUSEBIUS, Historia Ecclesiastica.

Paper, ff. 272, cm. 25.8×19, single columns, 30-33 lines. 23 quires of 12, except the 1st (11), 22d (10), and 23d (11). Ff. 10, 11 blank. Rulings on one side. Berlin Purchase no. 13. Probably century XV or XVI.

Label: Eusebii Caesarie(nsis) Historia Ecclesia(stica) M.S. Below, no. 72, on a paper label like that on nos. 2, 6, 12, 14, 17, 39, 47, 54, 63, 65.

Contents: Eusebius, Ecclesiastical History, eleven books, in the Latin version of Rufinus. Incip.: Quod deus et dominus et creator (f. 2a). Explic.: cum piissimis principibus percepturus premia meritorum (f. 272b).—On f. 1a: Historia Ecclesiastica Eusebii Caesariensis, in a late hand.

1. Chapter titles of Lib. 1-11. Ff. 2a-9a.

2. In red: Incipit hystoria ecc(lesi)astica eusebii cesariensis episcopi translata a ruffino presbytero de greco in latinum ad Cromatium episcopum. Incipit prologus. F. 12a.—The prologue begins Meritorium, instead of Peritorium, the illuminator having supplied the wrong capital. Rufinus' digression on Gregory Thaumaturgus is present after 7:28:2, (ff. 177b-180b), as well as his form of Lib. 10, and his Lib. 11. Initials are in red or blue, and sometimes handsomely illuminated. Quire indications have been mostly trimmed away in rebinding. Each book after the first is preceded by a list of chapter titles. The arms of a bishop (Cardinal Fieschi?), illuminated, appear at the foot of f. 12a.

3. The Ecclesiastical History, in 11 books, ff. 13a-272b. The books occupy the following ff.:

Lib. 1, ff. 13a-32b.	Lib. 6, ff. 133b-164b.
Lib. 2, ff. 32b-52b.	Lib. 7, ff. 165a-187b.
Lib. 3, ff. 52b-78b.	Lib. 8, ff. 187b-207a.
Lib. 4, ff. 78b-103b.	Lib. 9, ff. 207b-224a.
Lib. 5, ff. 103b-133b.	Lib. 10, ff. 224a-250b.
Lib. 11, ff. 250b-272b.

There are scholia, as well as a few corrections by a later hand in the margin. The scholia, written with a fine pen, have in part been trimmed away, and so must be older than the binding. On the inside of the back cover is a pricemark in lire.

19. Evangeliorum Quattuor Harmonia.

Paper, ff. 117, cm. 13.4×10.2, single columns, 22-24 lines. 10 quires, of 12, except the 10th (8). Quire signatures (first word following) stand at the foot of the last versos of quires 1-9. The leaf-openings are numbered in red, 1-111, f. 1a being numbered 1, ff. 1b, 2a, 2, etc. Hengstenberg Collection. Century XV.

Label: wanting. The binding is of parchment, parts of two missals having been used for it.

Contents: A Latin Harmony of the Four Gospels. Incip.: yhs. L. 1

Ff. 112a-115b, a table of contents, now incomplete, showing what chapters of the gospels are used in each section. This and the paragraphs following (f. 116a, b) evidently stood originally at the beginning, before the main text. Incip.: Reliquit yhesus judeam terram et abiit in galilia M m L J, f. 112a.—Explic.: Eiecit vendentes et ementes de templo cum introisset in eo. 21 11 19 (f. 115b).

Ff. 116a, b, (1) Explanation of preceding table and (2) prologue to the Harmony. Incip.: Explicit tabula super evangelium domini nostri et salvatoris yhesu christi filii dei et virginis marie domine nostre. Sequitur rubrica ad intelligendum ipsam tabulam, f. 116a. (This and the rubric following in red.)—The prologue follows the rubric. Incip.: Cum evangelistarum legissem volumina reperissemque in eis signa multa ac verba domini yhesu, f. 116a.—Explic.: Qui non studiosse sed ignoranter composui credens ac firmiter tenens que mater ecclesia per omnia tenet: (in red) Explicit argumentum Incipit liber feliciter: f. 116b.

In the Harmony, the materials of the four Gospels are minutely interwoven. The desire to omit as little as possible has led to much repetition, but the work has been painstakingly and apparently independently done. The source of each portion of text is indicated by the initial of the evangelist (M m L J) and the chapter number, in red above the first word of the quotation. The use of the present chapter numbers, devised by Stephen Langton at the end of the thirteenth century, shows that not only the manuscript but very probably the harmony itself originated after the thirteenth century. Indeed it is probable that the Harmony is not much if at all older than this copy of it. The water marks, abbreviations, and style of writing point to a date for the manuscript in the fifteenth century (ca. 1450). The margins have been much reduced in trimming, the red section titles having been partly trimmed away.

The guards and fly-leaves contain a number of notes in early hands. On the first fly-leaf

] adi 17 marzo 1550 io do zuav (. . .)
] [[maria di nargarado]]
] ego iohanes + Caminus(?)

On the last fly-leaf, recto, este liber est mei.—Verso, Adi 17 marzo 1550 io do ()o.—Within, on the last cover,] hec sine numine domini(?) eveniunt (the last word in a more formal hand).—Below, badly blotted,] este liber est mei domini At the end of the text, f. 111b, a later hand has written, Carissimo amant(issim)o m(esser) barba Sariti contento di mandarmi.

20. HORATIUS FELTRIUS, Conatus irriti Ossunae ducis ne a regimine Neapolitani regni amoveretur Liber Unus.

Paper, ff. 32, cm. 26×20.3, single columns, 21 lines. 5 quires, of 8, except 1 (6) and 2 (2). 1625.

Contents: f. 1, Conatus irriti Ossunae ducis ne a regimine Neapolitani regni amoveretur liber unus. Ad lectorem. Auctore Horatio Feltrio Neapolitano Viro Patritio.—F. 2 contains a preface. The history occupies ff. 3–32. Incip., f. 3a: Neapolitanum Regnum, in extremis Italiae finibus situm. . . Explic., f. 32 (numbered 31): a Borgia retentus perficere non valuit. Underneath this the beginning of a colophon [[Usque huc scribebat]] is deleted. Under this deletion another colophon is written: Cuncta, quae in hoc opusculo perleguntur, aut propriis oculis inspexit, aut a quamplurimis audivit, ac bona fide posteris tradidit, Horatius Feltrius Ant. fil. Marci Nepos. An M.DCXX.V.

The folio numbering (old) omits a blank leaf after no. 7, now the second leaf in quire 2, which was probably originally meant to fold the other way, to serve as cover and at the same time as f. 1 of quire 1, making this, as well as quires 3–5 a quaternion. The mistake is the binder's. The folio numbering must of course have been written before the binding was done. Scholia and corrections by a hand not much later than the writer's appear throughout, in the margin.

21. Fides Caietana.

Paper, ff. 142, cm. 27×20, single columns, 27–29 lines. 15 quires, of 10, except 1st (8), 14th (12), and 15th (2). The leaves are numbered 1–140. Berlin Purchase no. 45. Century XVII.

Label: Fides Caietana in Controversia Conceptionis B. Mariae V. Above this a square paper label numbered 23, with fragment of a later label. Flexible parchment binding, with gilded tooling.

Contents: Fides Caietana In Controversia Conceptionis Beatae Mariae Virginis Vindicata a nullitatis Iniuria hominis mendacis in statera sua reperti: f. 1a. A Defense of Caietan's doctrine of the Conception of the Blessed Virgin, against Marracius. Incip.: Cum in sacrosancta Lateranensi Synodo Sub Leone X° de Conceptione Beatae Virginis Controversia a praesentibus ageretur, f. 1a.—Explic.: quis ita iudicet, nisi temerarius?

Fidem Caietanam expertus sum plenam, et si non expertus essem, plenam credidissem, non obstantibus quibuscumque in contra adducit Marracius, f. 140b.

An "Index" (Table of Contents) occupies f. 141a, b. Incip.: Index Paragraphorum contentorum in hoc opere, cui titulus Fides Caietana in Controversia Conceptionis Beatae Mariae Virginis vindicata à nullitatis Iniuria hominis mendacis in statera sua reperti, f. 141a.—Explic.: Paragraphus 8s De Revelatione sanctae Caterinae Virginis Senensis. pag. 106. (F. 141b.) F. 142 is blank.

At the head of the fly-leaf at the beginning: Vide in hoc man(uscripto), etc. In the outer margin of f. 1a, a stamp: A leaping hound above three bars (i.e., a fess gules and three bendlets purpure); around it Ex. MSS. RA. GA.D GENTILI. At the foot of f. 1a, Mss. IOi Carte 140 (the number of the manuscript 501, and of its leaves, without the index quire). A price mark in lire is penciled on the last guard.

22. GIRARDUS DE SENIS, Distinctiones.

Paper, ff. 160, cm. 31.2×23.4 (except ff. 1 and 10, a parchment pair), double columns, 60–66 lines, 18 quires, of 10, except the 15th, 16th (6), 17th, and 18th (4). Rulings usually on both sides. Berlin Purchase? 1466–69.

Label: wanting.

Contents: Girardus of Siena, 48 Distinctiones.—Errores Philosophorum.

1. Distinctiones, ff. 1a-146b. a) Prologus, ff. 1a-21b. Incip.: Testatur Pater Noster Aurelius Aug(ustinus) 4 de Trinitate. 2. Title: In another hand: Incipiunt Errores Philosophorum Aristotelis Averrois Avicenne A(l)gazelis Alkandi Rabi moises. A fratre Egidio col(e)c(tor)i(?) ordinis fratrum heremitarum sancti Augustini Et primo de compilatione errorum Aristotelis, capitulum primum (red), ff. 148b-150b. Incip.: [Q]uoniam uno incon(sequent)i dato multa

There is appended a note of ten lines: Incip.: O bone ihesu ad laudem tuam.—Explic.: cui sit hono(r) et gloria in secula seculorum Amen. 1469 die 24 septembris (the date in red).

This first part alone, De Compilatione errorum, in 14 chapters was inscribed in the manuscript. This Augustinian Aegidius was perhaps the Augustinian Aegidius Columna or de Roma, archbishop of Bourges (†December 22, 1316).

Ff. 151a-152a are left blank.

3. Puncta in quibus communiter reprobatur et a doctoribus magister non tenetur In primo libro sentenciarum. F. 152b.—Explic.: hanc incipit excusari per hoberdientiam et timorem de hoc quod poscenti mulieri debitum reddidit a qua ipse numquam poscere debet.

4. The Letter of Lentulus to the Senate: (In still another very fine hand.) Lentulus habens officium in partibus Iudeae herodis ad senatores romanos hanc epistolam deferre iussit.—In a coarser hand, 23 lines. Incip.: Apparuit temporibus nostris et ad huc est homo magne virtutis nominatus Ihesus Christus.—Explic.: et brachia visu delectabilia In colloquio gratus vivit et modestus inter filios hominum (Cf. v. Dobschütz, Christusbilder, p. 308, where a list of manuscripts of this letter is given.) Below, in a coarser hand, the ink much faded, this note is written:

Hunc librum quem composuit Reverendus Magister Girardus senensis Ex suo originali senis [. .] existente Reverendus Magister Martucius de prata extraxit ac propria manu scripsit cum esset senis tunc baccalaureus: quem quidam magister neapolitanus ex conventu pratensi accepit; postea vero conscientia forte motus: mihi fratri Augustino de prata neapoli cursori (corr.) existenti reddidit quem deo duce: ac auxilio virginis marie: et beati patris nostri Augustini nec non virginis Caterine: totum videbo ac iuxta me retinebo et conventui nostro pratensi meo in recessu ex hoc mundo relinquam: habui ipsum(?)  22.

Thomas of Argentina (Strassburg) (†1357) and Gregory of Ariminum (flourished 1358) were eminent Augustinians.

5. Index to the Distinctiones, ff. 153a-155b. (In another hand): Tabula super rescriptum girardi per alphabetum (corr.) collecta quae incipit a litera . A. The Index is accordingly alphabetical running from Abas to Universis.

In what is probably another hand, a note of 10 lines; Incip.: Et in hoc completur hec tabula facta et ordinata [[8 words crossed out]] cum dei laude.—Explic.: 1470 In octava beati Augustini patris nostri aurelii.

Ff. 156b-160b are blank except that a price-mark in lire is penciled at the top of f. 159b, and a very fine hand has written at the top of f. 157a three lines; Incip.: Queritur utrum Theologia sit practica vel speculativa et arguitur primo quod sit practica.—Explic.: vacat quia scripsi illam in alio quinterno.

Three fly-leaves at the beginning of the codex, of smaller size and whiter paper, are blank and are not included in our reckoning of leaves. At the head of f. 153a Ih(es)us is written in a fine hand. Gerard of Siena flourished in 1330 (†ca. 1336).

23. GUIDO DE MONTE ROTHERII, Tractatus, etc.

Paper, ff. (16+) 108, cm. 21.3×15.5, single columns, 33-35 lines; in 11 quires, of 10 except the 11th (8). The leaves are numbered in mixed Roman and Arabic 1-c4, 104b-108b having originally been left blank. At the beginning now stand 2 quires of prefatory and other material, the 1st of 12, the 2d of 4. These are irregularly numbered (1-9 and 13). The second, ff. 13a-14b, gives table of contents. 146l.

Label: wanting.

Contents: Guido de Monte Rotherii (Mt. Roteil), Tractatus. With other material.

The two prefatory quires, ff. 1-16, contain:

1. Utilissimo modo de confessare secundo frate Nicholo da Osino (Osimo?) del ordine de la osservanza de sam Francescho, ff. 1a-12b (including the commandments and seven deadly sins). Incip.: Primo la persona che se vole ben confessare.—Explic.: Quilibet observet anime medicamina dando, etc. For the most part in Italian, but with some Latin interspersed.

2. Table of Contents of Guido's Tractatus, ff. 13a-14b. Incip.: [I]n isto libello sunt tres particule. Explic.: Quantum de dotibus glorie paradisi C. 4. This quire of 4 leaves, thus inscribed, was the original prefatory quire of the manuscript. On its blank portions has been written in a hand not much later:

3. De Interdicto, ff. 14b-16b. Incip.: Interdictum aliud est generale aliud particulare.—Explic.: vel totaliter relassatur coniuramento ut ex()e. alma h. viº. etc.

The body of the manuscript contains certain tractates of Guido de Monte Rotherii, in three parts: I, De sacramentis, etc., deals with Baptism, Confirmation, Eucharist, Mass, etc.; II, De paenitentis, etc.; III, De fidei articulis, etc.

Prohemium. Incip., f. 1a: Reverendo in christo patri ac domino domino Raimundo divina providentia sancte sedis valentie Episcopo suorum devotorum minimus Guido de monte Rotherii.—Explic., f. 1b: Scriptum Turoli m. ccc. xxxiii.

Prologus, ff. 1b, 2a. Pars 1, Tract. 1, cap. 1. Incip., f. 2a: Scien- dum ergo quod omnia sacramenta nove legis uerunt.—Explic., f. 104a: pro me peccatore ad dominum preces fundat: Laus deo. finitus anno domini 1461. die. xi. Septembr. hora nona.

The text is followed (1) by a note in an early hand, f. 104a; Incip.: Nolentes et a(). Licet secundum Legem mosaicam certi dies determinati fuissent.—Explic.: non credinius improbandam. Alexander iij, f. 104a. (2) by various forms of absolution, ff. 104b–106b, in a large handsome hand. Incip.: Forma Absolutionis a culpa . et pena. Dominus yhesus christus per suam sanctam piissimam misericordiam te absolvat.—Explic.: possent enim ab iniustis iniquis ac iracionabilibus appellari.—Ff. 107a–108b blank, except for two geometrical figures on f. 108b.

Various hands have annotated the margins here and there. A note in a late hand stands at the foot of prefatory f. 1a: Collg. Mut. Soc. Jesu.—This suggests Modena as a former home of the manuscript.—“Guido de Monte Rotherii vixit anno 1030” (Du Cange).

24. HIERONYMUS, Commentaria in Amos.

Parchment, f. 1, almost complete (in 2 pieces); cm. 33.2×20.5, 2 columns, line and column rulings in ink on both sides. 28 lines. Century XV?

Used as coverguards in binding Widmanstadt, Novum Testamentum Syriace, Vienna, 1555 (Editio princeps) (accession 15018), Am. Bible Union. Pp. cm. 21×14.3.

Contents: Recto: At the top: amos propheta (in red). Incip.: autem infirma. Senectus quidem multa.—Explic.: Iuravit dominus deus in sancto suo quia ecce venient. Verso: Incip.: dies super vos. et levabunt vos in contis.—Explic.: captivitatis miseriis opprimendas Quodque se[quitur].

A magnificent capital A in red and green on frag. 2.

On frag. 2, successive possessors of the printed book have written their names with dates 1601, 1620, 1662, 1730.

Cf. ed. Vallarsi, VI, coll. 263–66.

25. HIERONYMUS, Explanations in Ysayam, Excerpta.

Paper, ff. 420, cm. 14.8×10.8. Single columns, 27–29 lines, in 27 quires (including two prefatory) of 16, except nos. 1 (14) and 27 (6).

Front guard and fly-leaf of parchment. A similar guard (no. 15) has been removed from back cover, leaving its writing printed off on the wooden board. Column rulings in ink. Probably written at Erfurt, in the Carthusian convent; cf. no. 16, used in the binding of this manuscript. Hengstenberg? 1442.

Label: wanting.—Remains of one brass clasp.

Contents: Hieronymus, Explanaciones in Isaiam, Excerpta.

1. Registrum in 18. libros explanacionum sancti Ieronimi in ysaiam, ff. 1a–30a. Alphabetically arranged.

Deo gratias aleluya (these three words with musical notes above them). Below, in a hand perhaps later: Carbunculus significat ignitum sermonem doctrine Saphirus doctissimus disputator propugnaculum est ecclesie Iaspis est diversi generis. Cristallus est munditia cordis.

3. Appendix: Ex libro 8. explanacionum beati Ieronimi super ysaiam quaedam notabilia: Incip.: Clemencia dei patris, ff. 417a, b. —Kindred material from Lyra, etc., ff. 418a, b. Explic.: locutus est de(?) populo ysrael sub nomine unice.

In a fine late hand, foot of f. 1a: Ex Libris Cartusiae Erfor(diensis?).

The front guard is from an older parchment manuscript, a lectionary, and preserves parts of Matt. 25:31–37. Incip.: ihs discipulis suis.—Explic.: te vidimus esurientem et non.—On the parchment fly-leaf, Kirchengväter 181, and various Latin and German notes; an early one, on the verso, reads: libellus iste pertinet ad fratres carthusienses prope erffordeam. Continetur hic registrum et extracta librorum sancti Ieronimi super Isaiam.

26. Horae, Latin and French.

Parchment, ff. 126, cm. 12.3×9.4, single columns of 14 lines. 19 quires, of 8, except 12th and 16th (2), 19th (3), 1st, 2d, 7th, and 18th (6), 5th, 6th, and 15th (7), and 14th (10). There is one quire-signature (foot of f. 57b); the rest were probably trimmed away when the manuscript received its present green velvet binding. The pages are elaborately decorated with borders and illuminations, and there are ten remarkable miniatures in the French (Burgundian?) style, cm. 5.5×5, as follows:

F. 13a, The Annunciation.

F. 24a, The Visitation.

F. 36a, The Angels and the Shepherds.

F. 40a, The Adoration of the Magi.

F. 44a, The Holy Family.

F. 50a, The Flight into Egypt.

F. 54a, The Circumcision.

F. 60a, The Coronation of the Virgin.

F. 65a, Christ Supreme.

F. 83a, Requiem.

Rulings on both sides in red. Berlin Purchase no. 43. University of Chicago accession 250961. Probably century XV. Professor Thompson favors a date between 1400 and 1450.

On the front guard $\frac{11099}{I-U}$ is written; on the back guard (. . .)

R.P.P.—A clipping from a (Berlin?) printed catalogue, with a description of the manuscript, is attached to the front paper.

The manuscript is said to have come from Chalons-sur-Marne (Berlin list) and this may be correct, as the occasional use of w for v points to northeastern France—Picardy, Artois, Champagne.

27. HORATIUS, Opera.

Paper, ff. 131, cm. 21×14.5, single columns of 31 lines, in 13 quires, of 10, except the 13th (originally 12, but the last leaf, probably originally blank, has been torn out). A pair of fly-leaves at beginning and end. Titles in red. Capital line-initials. University of Chicago accession 241962. Century XV.

Label: Horatius MS.

Contents: Horatius, Opera.

Spaces have been left for large initials, but have not been filled. The Carmina, Epodi, Carmen Saeculare, and parts of the Epistolae have been copiously annotated in an early hand. Inside the first cover, is a book plate: a coat of arms, supported by female figures with anchors, surmounted by a coronet, a bar, globe, and rainbow: the mottoes, Tria juncta in uno; and, below, At spes non fracta. T-15 is written on the book plate; P. 4. 9. on fly-leaf i a.

28. ISIDORUS HISPALENSIS, Contra Iudaeos.

Paper, ff. 55, cm. 21.5×15.5, single columns, 25 lines. 7 quires of 10, except 1st (2), and 7th (3). F. 1a blank. Rulings on ff. 1b, 2a only. Quire signatures below the middle of last line of last versos. 1543.

Label: wanting. The manuscript is without a binding.

Contents: Isidori Toletani Episcopi, Contra Iudaeos, libri duo.

3. Chapter titles, Lib. 2, ff. 30b–31a. Incip.: Incipiunt capitula secundi libri. De gentium vocatione .1.—Explic.: Quia panis et calicis testimonium futurum esset in holocaustum xxv.

4. Lib. 2, ff. 31a–55b. Incip.: Prologus. Quedam experte domini atque salvatoris nativitatem.—Explic.: Tabernaculum dei sancti eius sunt in quibus habitat in eternum. Amen. Explicit liber Ysidori Toletani episcopi contra iudeos. Amen. 1543. die 22^o Iunii.

The Idisore meant is of course Isidore of Seville, born ca. 560, died 636. Toletani Episcopi is a mistake, possibly due to the fact that he presided over several synods held at Toledo, or to the treatment of his life and writings in the Viri Illustres of his pupil Ildefonso of Toledo, or to the fact that copious use of Isidore's booklet was made in a book of the same title, Contra Iudaeos, written by Julian of Toledo. On Isidore's life and writings, cf. R. Schmid, Isidor von Sevilla, in *P.R.E.*², and Kaulen, art. "Isidor," in the Kirchenlexikon. The best edition of Isidore's complete works is that of Faustinus Arevalus, Rome, 1797–1803, reprinted in Migne, S.L. 81–83, where the Contra Iudaeos is treated in the "Isidoriana," II, LXVI, vol. 81, coll. 429–433, and the text printed in vol. 83, coll. 449–538. The text of the present manuscript is not of the best. The error Toletanus for Hispalensis (or Spalensis) is found in a number of manuscripts of Contra Iudaeos (cf. Arevalus, in Migne, S.L. 81, col. 433, and 83, col. 450, note), e.g., in Arevalus' Cod. MS. Florentin. I.

29. IUVENAL, Satirae.

Parchment, ff. 98, cm. 17.6×11.6, single columns, 20 lines, rulings on the hair side. 10 quires, of 10, except the 10th (8). The manuscript is properly made, hair sides facing hair sides. A carefully illuminated initial begins Satire 1 of Lib. 1., f. 1a. Lesser illuminations at the beginning of each satire. Berlin Purchase no. 22. Dated at Florence, November 28, 1441.

Label: Juvenalis MS.—The old binding of beautifully tooled leather, over boards, has been strengthened at the back with a piece of leather from another binding previously inscribed Testam. Vet. tom. I.

Contents: D. Iunii Iuvenalis Aquinatis Libri V. Incip.: D. Iunii Iuvenalis Aquinatis, Liber Satirarum Incipit. Semper ego auditor.—Explic.: Quis nescit volusci. crudeles ultima mores. τέλος

Lib. 3, ff. 42b-59a.

Lib. 4, ff. 59a-77a.

Lib. 5, ff. 77a-97b.

At the end of the text, f. 97b: Iunii iuvenalis Aquinatis liber quintus et ultimus, quod bono sit omine, finit florentiae 1441 xxviii novembris.—

Following this, a table of contents, ff. 97b, 98a, as follows:

ῥέλος

On the rectos a modern hand has penciled page numbers, 1, 3, 5, etc., to 199. 77 and 79 are omitted. A fly-leaf of thicker parchment, preceding the first quire, bears the name of a former owner, Weçlewski Zygmunt, and the mark $\frac{A\ 42(?)}{Z\ 10}$. The last fly-leaf has at the top of the verso: Ruberto ferr S. Ercole Cori (?). On the inside of the last cover: salma, partly erased, and in a diminutive hand, Comes.

Scholia, not quite of the usual type, are written in the margins in many places, in a fine, regular hand, much like that of the text.

30. LEO MAGNUS, Sermones.

Parchment, ff. 135, with fly-leaf at beginning and end, cm. 27.3×18.5, single columns, 37 lines, 14 quires, of 10, except 11th (8). Quires 1 and 3 have lost the first leaf, that before f. 1, and that after f. 19;

quire 14 has lost its last leaf, that which followed f. 133. Edges gilt. Binding shows remains of four brass clasps. At lower right hand of rectos an old leaf-numbering appears, 60-65, on ff. 31-36, also 92 on f. 73. At upper right-hand corner of rectos is a later leaf-numbering, made before the first leaf was lost, and meant to be continuous, but in fact inaccurate and misleading. The first hand, round and open, gives way with the turn of f. 118 to (f. 118b) a much more compact and angular hand, which completes the manuscript. Rulings on the flesh side. Berlin Purchase no. 19. Probably century XV.

Label: Sermones S. L[eo]n[is] Ma[g]ni. (In style like nos. 2 and 5.)

Contents: Sermones divi Leonis papae (in an old hand at head of f. 1a). The only gaps are where the first or last leaves of quires are wanting, one before f. 1, one after f. 19, and one after f. 133. Incip.: dei nostri clementiam supplices obsecrare.—Explic.: non possunt quid humanitati ascribere quid.

The first sermon of this collection, De Natali ipsius S. Leonis I, evidently corresponded to sermons 1 and 2 in Migne's edition, and occupied the first leaf, now wanting. The present f. 1a preserves the closing eight lines of this sermon—dei nostri clementiam supplices—Per christum dominum nostrum. The 93 sermons are in general those that appear in the Migne edition and stand with few exceptions in the order of that edition; thus Migne's 64 and 66 stand between his 62 and 63. Sermons numbered 5, 11, and 20 in Migne were not included in this collection. The loss of one leaf between ff. 19 and 20 has removed part of Sermon 18 (Migne's 22), ch. 4, 5a, omnipotensque [Salvator . . . cominoda] utentibus. Sermon 93 (Migne's 96) breaks off with: humanitati ascribere quid[], the last leaf of the manuscript being wanting. The rest of Sermon 93, ch. 2 fin. and 3, would fill but half a page, and leave room for another short sermon, but the collection probably closed with 93. There are a few marginal notes referring to Cicero, Seneca, Jerome, etc. Ih(es)us is written at the head of the verso of the first fly-leaf. Each sermon begins with an illuminated capital.

At the top of the recto of the last fly-leaf is a note: Qui studium agricolandi dederit: antiquissima sciat haec sibi advocanda [] facultatem impendendi: voluntatem agendi: nam is demum cultissimum rus. [] Tremellius: qui et colere sciet: et poterit: et volet:

31. LEONARDUS ARETINUS, De Primo Bello Punico.

Paper, ff. 113, cm. 21.2×14.3, single columns, 27 lines, 12 quires, of 10, except the 1st (8) and 12th (5), which serve as fly-leaves and form no part of the manuscript proper. Rulings on the verso. The usual quire signatures. Ff. i-vii, 98a-105b blank. F. viiia scribbled over with a hard point. Berlin Purchase no. 39. Probably century XV.

Label: Aretini De Bello Punico.—The binding is of boards, with parchment guards and leather back, and remains of a brass and leather clasp. At the foot of the back, on a paper label cm. 1.9 square, $\frac{A}{27}$. Inside front cover, on the parchment guard, Leonardi arretini de primo bello punico Thome de Vicentiis de Fano 1560.

Contents: Leonardi Aretini, De primo Bello Punico, libri tres.

1. Leonardi Aretini de primo bello punico: Liber primus. Ff. 1a-63b. Incip.: [V]ereor ne qui me putent antiqua nimium consertari.—Explic.: numquam maioribus copiis quam hoc bello mari pugnatum intelligent.

2. Incipit Liber Secundus (red). Ff. 63b-80b. Incip.: [F]inito Primo punico bello quod viginti quatuor annos terra marique gestum ostendimus.—Explic.: Matho captivique alii in triumphum ducti et supplitio affecti sunt.

3. Incipit Liber Tertius (red). Ff. 80b-97b. Incip.: [P]ost pacem igitur in Sicilia cum Romanis factam.—Explic.: regione tota praeter admodum pauca loca excedere iussi sunt. Finis.

Space has been left for a few large initials which have not been supplied. F. viii^b has this note, in a much later hand. Leonardo Bruni di Arezzo che va sotto il nome di Leonardo Aretino morì nel 1444 in Firenze essendo Camelliere Della Republica Fiorentina. Occasional marginal captions serve as guides to the contents. On f. 113^b in the upper left-hand corner is a mark, probably a dealer's: de o-bot zo.

32. LEONARDUS ARETINUS, LAURENTIUS DE PENSAURO, ET AL.,
Opuscula Varia.

Paper, ff. 49, cm. 29.5×22, single columns, 35-49 lines, in 5 quires of 10, except 1st (9), in nine different hands. The quires are continuous. Berlin Purchase no. 37. Century XV-XVI.

Label: wanting.

Another similar address follows, ff. 47a-49a. The two addresses are separated by a prayer in Italian and by a note at the head of the second, f. 47a: Quia praedicatus sermo non fuit recitatus per dictum d(ominum) L(aurentium) cum ad officium capitanei spectet confaloneria dare ideo dictus d(ominus) Laurentius in novo prioratu infra scriptum sermonem recitavit. Incip.: Quotiens iocundissimum conspectum vestrum intueor Magnifici(?) domini ac prestantissimi cives.—Explic.: Ad Laudem sempiterni dei qui est trinus et unus per infinita secula. There are occasional marginal notes in different hands.

33. LUCANUS, Pharsalia.

Paper, ff. 146, cm. 29×21.5, single columns, 27–32 lines, in 15 quires of 10, except 2d (8), 9th (11), 12th (8), 15th (9). Rulings on both sides. Berlin Purchase no. 17. Probably century XV.

Label: Lucan. Phars. MSS. SOE. XV.

Contents: Lucan's Pharsalia, ten books, complete, with scholia on Lib. 1–3. Incip.: Bella per emathios plusquam civilia campos.—Explic.: Obscedit muris calcentem menia magni. At the head of f. 1a, in another hand, is the Epitaphion Lucani:

Corduba me genuit: rapuit nero: prelia dixi

Lib. 5, ff. 57a–72a.

Lib. 10, ff. 137a–146b.

There is a continuous leaf-numbering in red in a later hand. A price mark in lire has been penciled inside the last cover. Occasional variants are noted beside the text.

34. PETRUS VERONENSIS, Rubricae.

Paper, ff. ii+647, cm. 22×16, single columns, 22–31 lines, 57 quires, of 12, except 1st, 2d, and 6th (of 2), 52d (8), and 57th (11). An old quire lettering A–Z, aa–uu, begins with quire 15, f. 137a, and continues to the end. The letter stands at the lower outer corner of the first rectos. On f. 2 an old leaf numbering begins to appear with 174, continuing to 469 (=296) then omitting 20 nos. and passing to 490 (=297) thence continuing to 837 (=644). Over this a later leaf numbering 1–644 has been written. This later leaf-numbering is on the whole correct, the omission of 189 making up for the repetition of 146. The three remaining leaves (645a–647b) are blank, as is f. iia, b. No rulings. Berlin Purchase no. 30. 1519.

Label: D. Petrus Veron(onensis) C. R. Super 4^m et 5^m Decr(etalium). The binding is pigskin, and there were two pairs of thongs for tying the book shut.

62. De verborum Significatione, ff. 593a-633a.
63. De regulis iuris, ff. 633a-644b.

The manuscript is very irregularly written, and is doubtless the original writing of Petrus Veronensis. On f. 1a, below the title, a later hand has written Vincentius Paganus, which has been crossed out. A price mark in lire is penciled on the last verso.

35. POGGIUS, LEONARDUS, GUARINUS, Opuscula Varia.

Paper, ff. 128, cm. 28.8×20.4, single columns, 24 lines, in 17 quires, of 8, except 12th (6), and 13th (2). The quire lettering, A, B, etc., beginning again with the 14th, shows that we have here two manuscripts from the same hand, and at some time bound up as one. To the second of these quire 13 served as fly-leaves. Rulings on one side. Berlin Purchase no. 36. Century XV.

Label: (On the edges as in the Escorial manuscripts) Pog. Invect. in. Val.—On the back of the one remaining (rear) wooden cover: Poggii Invectivae Contra Laurentium.

Contents: Latin Works of Various Humanists: Poggio, Leonardo, Guarino.

1. Poggii Florentini Oratio Prima in Laurentium Vallam incipit. Si quibus in rebus honestum est consensuque omnium permissum iniuriam propulsare, ff. 1a–21a.

Oratio secunda, ff. 21b–54a.

Oratio quarta, ff. 63b–77b.

Oratio tertia, ff. 54b–63b.

Oratio quinta, ff. 78b–89b.

Explic.: in quos ego sinu ibi innotuerint liberius ac licentius evagabor. Poggii Florentini oratio quinta et ultima in Laurentium Vallam Explicit.

2. Epistola Leonardi Aretini ad illustrem mulierem Baptistam de Malatis (es corr.) de [[in]] litteris ac studiis humanitatis, ff. 97a–109b. Incip.: Compulsus crebro rumore admirabilium virtutem tuarum scribere ad te constitui.—Explic.: conferre tecum volui opinionem meam et currentem ut aiunt ad gloriam cohortari. vale. Finis.

3. Incipit Prefatio Guarini Veronensis in Plutarcum, ff. 110a, b. Maiores nostros Angeleini suavissime non admirari et maximis prosequi laudibus non possum.—Explic.: Sed de his alias. Plutarcum audiamus.

4. De liberis educandis incipit e Greco in latinum a Guarino viro veronense doctissimo traduct(us?), ff. 111a–128a. Incip.: Quid nam est quod de ingenuorum educatione liberorum dicere quispiam posset.—Explic.: at humano effici posse constat ingenio. Finis.

A handsomely illuminated capital stands at the beginning of each oration or treatise, that at the beginning of the manuscript being especially elaborate. The marginal notes on Poggius exhibit a different hand from that which annotated the other works. Inside the rear and only remaining cover are three notes in other hands. At the top: historia [[pog]] Laurentii Valle de gestis Aragonum regis. At the bottom: Io(hann)is Antonii de Benedictis de Neap(oli) emptus de mense Julio 1579 a Io(hann)e Bap(tis)ta Ruffo bibliopola Neap(olita)no. Beside it, perhaps as a price mark: carlenis quindecim.

36. Receptarium de Medicinis, with miscellaneous remedies and prescriptions.

Paper, ff. 195, cm. 25.3×19, two columns, 25–27 lines, 25 quires, of 8, except the 1st (4), 22d (6), and 23d (9). Leaves numbered 1–8, of which ff. 1–5 were originally left blank. A new numbering begins with f. 6, thence continuing (1—(191, though with occasional confusions and transpositions after f. 163, the manuscript's folio (158, with which the original Latin text comes to an end. Rough rulings, or rather underlinings, on both sides. Ff. 175 and 182 are half torn away. Berlin Purchase no. 26. Century XV–XVI.

Label:] Segreti Antichi.

Contents: Receptarium De Medicinis, ff. 6a–163a. The margins of this text and the originally blank leaves before and after it, ff. 1–5, 163b–195b, have been written over in numerous cursive hands with recipes, remedies, and prescriptions of all sorts, for the most part in Italian. Recipes are given for ink, soap, white sugar, hair-restorers and dyes, cosmetics, colors, etc., and remedies for dog-bite and a host of complaints. Incip.: Sequitur receptarium De medicinis communiter usitatis per medicos, tam phisicos quam chirurgicos, que communiter reperiuntur penes aromatarios, preparatae, et hoc secundum mesue, nicolaum, galienum, rasim, avicennam, et aliorum auctorum Dicta Et prime De electuariis secundum antidotarium Domini mesue, f. 6a.—Explic.: et subito recepit tantum sudorem ut venenum totum exalet evacuationi universali prius facta. Finis. F. 163a.

Added material, Incip., f. 1a: Recipe Corti ligni guainei—z 4.—Explic.: chi sia como ung(?). There are some hundreds of these miscellaneous prescriptions, in a great variety of hands, written probably by successive owners or at least users of the book. A bit of Hebrew appears on f. 176b. A list of 49 famous medical authorities from Hippocrates to Platina occupies f. 5a. At the head of f. 170a In Napoli is written. Ff. 168b–169b are occupied with a series of Latin paragraphs entitled, Quid est medicina que medetur egris. Among the miscellaneous marginal titles are Da far' gelo, f. 8b; Per far' una Copeta come se fa In ferrara cosa eletta, f. 12b; A fare azurro oltra marino, f. 21a; Per far' nascier' li pili dove non nascie, f. 24a; per le cubebe la cassia, f. 30a; ad seccar' porri delle mani, f. 33b; Per far' pasta da marzapani fina et bona, f. 48b; A dolor de podagre, f. 58a; Uno oglio de semo de Cino, f. 62a; per la memoria bona, f. 146b. Un acqua molta nobilissima per far' belle le donne, f. 192a.

Fly-leaf 1a is inscribed 51 at the top, and, in the same hand, 1571 at the bottom.

37. ANTONIUS DE RAHO, In Rubricas Solutio Matrimonio.

Paper, ff. 152, cm. 43×28, double columns, 50–64 lines, 16 quires, of 10, except the 1st and 2d (9), 6th, 7th, 8th, and 10th (8). Quire signatures of six or more words stand at right angles to the lines, at the lower right-hand corner of last versos. There is a leaf-numbering, probably contemporary. Rulings usually on both sides. Ff. 7b and 8a left blank. Berlin Purchase no. 29. 1482.

Label: Antonius De Raho super Rubr. Sol. Matri.—On the recto of the fly-leaf, in a later hand, Antonius de Raho Auditor Generalis et Consiliarius Regis Federici Aragonii In Rubricas Soluto Matrimonio In Auditorio Sa(n)cti Laurentii Doctor et Lector Anno Domini MCD LXXXII 1482 Omnia in calce operis.—Soluto Matrimonio, in a small hand, stands near the leaf-number on most of the rectos of the manuscript.

Contents: Antonio de Raho, In Rubricas Soluto Matrimonio, De Liberis et Postumis. Occasional headings stand out in rude capitals: Causa Dotis. f. 6a, Soluto Ma(trimonio), f. 11a, Quod Si In Patris, f. 14a, Voluntatem f. 17b, Non solum, f. 19b, De Divisione, f. 21b, etc. Incip.: In glossa rubrice praesens glossa [[dividi?]] potest in quinque partes In prima enim ponitur duplex continuatio.—Explic.: in legitimacione quae fit per comitem palatinum vide hoc per eum in ultima columpna.

The Matrimonio Soluto occupies ff. 1a–141b. At the foot of f. 141b another hand has written: Die ultimo Iunii xv Ind(ictionis) in(carnationis) 1482: dominus antonius de raho complevit Institutiones praesentes, titulum soluto matrimonio sed in voce ante multos dies eum complevit.

Rubrica de liberis et postumis, ff. 142a–152b, concludes the volume.

At the foot of the last verso, another hand has written: Die 6 mensis Julii 15e Ind. 1482 sub augusta regis ferdinandi pace dominus antonius de raho in auditorio sancti laurentii hic punctavit qui habuit concurrentem dominum petrum de fundis qui paucis diebus legit et postea ob paucitatem studencium demisit et [[am]] amplius non legit.—This may be Pietro di Fondi, poet at Naples in the fifteenth century.

The wide margins accommodate numerous notes in various hands. The book was probably the lecture book of de Raho, or possibly a student's copy of his lectures. On f. 100b, in the lower margin a hand of the same period as the rest of the volume has indited a scurrilous poem of 8 lines after the style of Martial: "Ad antonium de raho amicum optimum."

A printed pamphlet dealing with the de Raho family has been bound into the back of the manuscript: Subsidiariae Velitationes adversus Molossos mordentes lapidem. Auctore D. Olao Chardero. Neapoli, MDCXCVI.—Pp. 28. Mention of Antonio de Raho on p. 18.

38. 2 Reg. 19:37–22:13.

Parchment, 1 f., mutilated at top and outer side through use in binding, cm. 30.2×26.6, double columns, now of 37 lines, but originally of 55 or 56, 17 or 18 lines being lost from the top of each column. Rulings on the hair side. The hand is large and shapely, with three marginal capitals in red. There are the usual abbreviations. Berlin Purchase no. 24. Probably century XV.

Contents: Parts of II Kings 19:37–22:13, in the Latin Vulgate.

Col. 1: 19:37–20:10, ni]neve cumque adoraret in templo neserach nec hoc volo ut faciat sed ut[

Col. 2: 20:14–21:5, vene]runt de babylone universae militiae caeli in duobus atriis [

Col. 3: 21:10b–21, dice]n[s] Quia fecit manases rex . . . per quam ambulaverat pater eius [

Col. 4: 22:2–13,]d(omi)no et ambulavit per [omnes vias david] patris sui magna enim ira d(omi)ni [

After 19:37 a somewhat later hand has written: omnia xxv. Opposite 21:18 a still later hand has written: Tanta nequitia ad aures meas de tua senectute pervenit. vi.

39. Rubricae De accusationibus, etc.

Paper, ff. 190, cm. 31×21.4, double columns, 37–39 lines, in 16 quires, of 12, except the 2d, 9th, and 16th, (10), 7th (6), and 13th (22). Quire signatures below middle margin of last versos. A leaf-numbering at the upper right-hand corner of each recto, and near it usually a brief title, De accusa(tionibus), De Symonia, etc. Rulings on both sides. Ff. 66a, 76a, b, are blank. Berlin Purchase. Probably century XV.

Label: wanting. The quires are still stitched together, but have lost their cover. An oval slip printed in blue, like those on nos. 2, 6, 12, 14, 17, 18, 47, 54, 63, 65, is at the foot of the back.

Contents: Rubricae de Accusationibus, Simonia, etc.

Title: De Accusationibus Inquisitionibus et Denuntiationibus Rubrica. Above, in a finer hand, Iacobus de Rochis super(?) Incip.: Ista rubrica habet tres partes, primo de accusa(tionibus), f. 1a.—Explic.: consuetudinem contrariam G. . . de consue. c. 1. et ul., f. 189a (on the note f. 189b see below).

1. De accusationibus, inquisitionibus, et denuntiationibus, ff. 1a–26a.

Rubrica: Capitula regia edita et confirmata Neapoli post quedam alia capitula primo edita per regem carolum 2^m tunc principem et regni vicarium In planitie sancti martini et subsequenter Neapoli confirmata similiter super pacifico statu regni composita et dictata per bone memorie dominum andream de yser(nia) iuris civilis eximium professorem Ac tunc magne regie curie magistrum rationalem, ff. 16b-29a.

3. Capitula Regis Roberti, ff. 29b-54a.

These include among other documents:

a) Consultum Gulielmi de pernuo Siculi, ff. 39a-40a. On f. 40a he appears as Gulielmus de pernuo doctor Siculus. In this consultum, Andreas de yser(nia) (†1353) is quoted, f. 40a, l. 8.

b) A genealogical chronicle (without title) chiefly of the Anjou dynasty, beginning with the fall of the Hohenstaufen, 1263 (1168)-1390, ff. 40b-44a.

c) A list of counts created by the Kings of Naples, ff. 44b, 45a.

d) Decrees of Robertus and his son Carolus, Dux Calabriae (†1332) ff. 45b-54a.

A second hand begins with f. 39a, l. 5, and continues through f. 66a.

4. Capitula Pape honorii, ff. 54a-60a. (A bull of Honorius IV, dated Oct. 1285.)

5. Memoriae as to judicial procedure, ff. 60b-62a.

6. Tractatus de quibusdam pertinentibus Ad Fescum, ff. 62b-65b.

7. Quot sunt forme frequentis concessionis feudorum, ff. 66a.—Explic.: naturales si de feud. fue. contro. In the margin, in the same hand, Ultimo script(?) 1522 per me meren. exempla. At the head of f. 66b, as though marking the end of the manuscript, Cartae 66 scripte.

8. (In a later hand) Legal forms: Forma Mandati ad Informandum, etc., ff. 67a-68a. The date given in the first of these, 4 Januarii 1575, suggests the general period of this hand. References to a parallel text—carte 213-237, 250—run through ff. 1-37, apparently in the hand of ff. 39-66. The Capitula Regni referred to in the first title (f. 1a) are perhaps meant. In the margin of f. 45b, Ista capitula regni non sunt in capitulis impressis in libro meo. There are markings in a late hand on the cover: Illustrissimo S(ignor?) mio cesarone. The Sebastianus Neapolitanus to whom this collection is ascribed, f. 1a, may be the jurisconsult of the name of the fourteenth century (†1362), but is more probably he of the fifteenth century (flor. 1482).

42. PSEUDO-SENECA, De Quatuor Virtutibus, Ex Epistulis, etc.

Paper, ff. 16, cm. 21.4×15.6, single columns, 25 lines, 3 quires of 4, except the 3d (8). No rulings. F. 16b blank. Leaves somewhat patched. Probably century XV.

Label: wanting. The manuscript is without a binding, the leaves having escaped from some dilapidated codex.

Contents: Seneca, De Quatuor Virtutibus, Ad Galionem De Remediis Infortuniorum, Ex Epistolis Senecae.

1. Incipit tractatus Senece de quatuor Virtutibus, ff. 1a-7a. Incip.: Quatuor virtutum species multorum sapientum sententiis diffinite sunt. Explic.: aut mentem composui devitet insaniam aut deficiente contempnat ignaviam. Explicit tractatus de quatuor virtutibus Annei Lucii Senece:—

3. Ex epistolis Senece: ff. 12b-16a. Incip.: Ab alio expectes. alteri quod feceris.—Explic.: Avaricia est pestis Irremediabilis.

Augustinus In epistola ad Medrigium presbyterum Fuge feminam te obsecro et earum conversationem fuge ut mortem. Nam earum conversatio quid aliud est quam diaboli ianua: pabulum iniquitatis. scorpionis percussio. muscarum morsio. et diaboli habitatio.

The text lacks the interpolations found in some manuscripts of these works and seems to be good. The De Quatuor Virtutibus is in a different hand from the rest of the manuscript; the hand changing to a rounder and more open style with the turning of f. 7. Large marginal initials and some headings are in red. At the top of f. 7a, a finer hand has written amo and amor each four times. Nota bene appears occasionally in the margins of the De Quatuor Virtutibus. In De Remediis, and to a less extent in Ex Epistolis, a later hand has made corrections and marginal additions, and has freshened up what was indistinct.

43. SERVETUS, De Trinitatis Erroribus Libri VII.

Paper, ff. 166, cm. 19×16, single columns, 15–28 lines. 21 quires of 8, except the 21st (6). No inner margins left. Ff. 1b and 166b blank. Paper of ff. 1–80 fine; of ff. 81–166 coarse. In the margin is penciled a folio numbering, probably that of a (printed?) copy with which the manuscript has been compared, running from Fol. 2a on f. 2a to 119b on f. 165b. Hengstenberg? Probably century XVII–XVIII.

Label: Servetus de Trinitatis Erroribus. Msc. Below in another hand and ink, 41. Full pigskin binding.

Contents: De Trinitatis Erroribus Libri Septem per Michaellem Serveto (corr: 1st hand -tum), alias Reves ab Aragonia Hispanum. Selah. Finis. F. 165b.

A note on f. 166a, in a different but early hand, reads: Erratum. Ubicunque reperies Jehonah, tu lege Jehovah, per ou, non on.

The date 1531, f. 1a, is the date of the first publication of this earliest of Servetus' works, at Hagenau. The manuscript is perhaps a copy of a printed text. Manuscript copies are said to be common.

45. (Gr. 1.) BASILIUS MAGNUS, Sermo de Legendis Libris Gentilium; ATHANASIUS, Vita Sancti Antonii.

Paper, ff. 71, cm. 23.8×17.2, rough edges, in 10 quires of 8, except 3d (4) and 10th (3). The last leaf of quire 10 is blank. Three fly-leaves at the beginning. Single columns, 20–23 lines. Ornaments over titles. Titles, initials and beginnings of paragraphs in red throughout. There is an old leaf numbering, 4–18. Berlin Purchase? Century XV.

Label: [S. Bas]ilii Magni de Vtilitate capienda ex libris Gentilium. S. Athanasii Vita M. [Antonii].

Contents: On verso of 3d fly-leaf in front: S. Basillii Oratio de utilitate capienda ex libb. gentil. S. Athanasii Vita M. Antonii. Hanc minime nancisci potuit qui grecolatinam editionem operum Athanasii novissimaliter fecit. Definitiones nonnullae. (Of these "definitiones" no trace appears in the book.) Underneath, in a different hand: Exscripta per Gregorium Florellium cleric. Regul.

1. Incip., f. 4a: Τοῦ μεγάλου βασιλείου ὁμιλία πρὸς τοὺς νέους ὅπως ἀν' ἐξ ἑλληνικῶν ὀφελοῦντο λόγων: (red) Πολλὰ μετὰ παρακαλοῦντά ἐστι ξυμβουλευσαὶ ὑμῶν ὡς παῖδες ἀβέλτιστα εἶναι κρίνω.—Explic., f. 17a: ὁ μὴ πάθῃτε νῦν ὑμεῖς τοὺς ὀρθῶς ἔχοντας τῶν λογισμῶν ἀποφεύγοντες: (cf. Underneath in fine script: γρηγόριος, i.e., the scribe Gregorius Florellius, cf. fly-leaf 3b (Migne, S.G. 26, coll. 835–976).

The parchment used to fasten the binding to the back has on it in red ink, on one side: Septembr. San[cti] egidii abb[at]i exul.; on the other: Nativitas sancti domini. The number 1 is penciled within a circle on the outside of the front cover; cf. no. 53. Watermarks: ff. 1–20: anchor (? or boat with mast) in circle; ff. 21–60: stag in circle; ff. 61–68: six-pointed star under anchor; ff. 69–71: six-pointed star within four-pointed star in circle (as on some leaves of Nicetas on Greg. Nazianz., no. 53, part of which was written by the same Gregorius).

46. (Gr. 2.) Evangelia Graeca.

Parchment, ff. 267, cm. 27×18, single columns, 19 lines. Originally 40 quires, of 8, except the 40th (7), besides a prefatory quire of 11.

7 quires have been lost from the codex (17–23). Of the 33 remaining, four lack one or two leaves (4, 15, 16, 32), and 29 are complete (1–3, 5–14, 24–31, 33–40). The quires are numbered on the lower inner corner of the first recto and the last verso. The hand is a large round cursive. Much of the writing has been retraced. Gregory, Textkritik des Neuen Testamentes, evv. 1290; Von Soden, ε 586. Special purchase, 1895. The rulings are in the manner usual in Greek codices. Ca. 1500.

Label: Four Gospels in Greek. c. A.D. 1500.

Contents: The Four Gospels in Greek, with the following lacunae: Matt. 9:36–10:10 (quire 4, f. 1); 12:15b–29a (4, 8); Mark 7:24b–36a (15, 1); 9:48b–10:14a (16, 1); 12:1–Luke 9:2 (16, 8, and 17–23); John 1:1–14a (32, 1); 3:14b–27a (32, 8).

1. Lesson-titles with explanatory paragraphs, the Letter of Eusebius to Carpianus; the Eusebian Canons, in red, ff. 1a–8b.

2. Ὑπόθεσις τοῦ κατὰ Ματθαῖον εὐαγγελίου and list (in red) of chapter titles of Matthew, ff. 9a–11a.

4. Ὑπόθεσις τοῦ κατὰ Μάρκον ἁγίου εὐαγγελίου, and list (in red) of chapter titles of Mark, ff. 98a–99b.

5. Mark 1:1–7:24a; 7:36b–9:48a; 10:14b–11:33, ff. 100a–134b.

6. Luke 9:3–24:53, ff. 135a–196b.

7. Ὑπόμνημα εἰς τὸν ἅγιον ἀπόστολον Ἰωάννην τὸν θεολόγον and list (in red) of chapter titles of John, ff. 197a–198b.

8. John 1:14b–3:14a; 3:27b–21:25, ff. 199a–267b.

Just before the beginning of Matthew, the following hexameters appear, f. 11a:

†ματθαίου τόδε ἔργον· ἀριστοπόνοιο τελώνου· ὃς τόκον ἔφρασε θεῖον ἀπειρογάμοιο γυναικός· ἣ τέκε ἄσπορον υἱὸν ὃν οὐ χάδεν οὐρανὸς εὐρύς·
χ(ριστὸν) ἀειζώντα· θ(εὸν) βροτὸν αὐτὸν ἐόντα.†

Before the beginning of Mark are the following hexameters, not unusual in gospel cursives, f. 99a. The verses are written as prose; the verse-divisions are supplied below:

ὅσα περὶ χριστοῦ θεηγόρος ἔθνεα πέτρος κηρύσσων ἐδίδασκεν ἀπὸ στομάτων
ἐριτίμων, | ἐνθάδε μάρκος ἄγειρε καὶ ἐν
σελίδεσσιν ἔθηκε· | τοῖνεκα καὶ μερόπεσσιν εὐάγγελος ἄλλος ἐδείχθη:— |
ἔργον ἀριπρεπὲς ἐκ μεγάλου πέτρου
μνηθεῖς, | μάρκος ἔτευξε τόδε πν(εύματος)
ἐν σοφίῃ:

The last two hexameters are repeated at the top of the following page, f. 99b. There are ornamental Π-shaped headings at the beginnings of Matthew and Mark, and a few initial capitals. See Frontispiece, f. 11a, Matt. 1:1-4a.

The codex was purchased by the University in 1895 through Professor Ernest D. Burton and Professor Caspar René Gregory, from the estate of a Greek of Thera, by whom it had been brought to Chicago. The text is Syrian. Collation and estimate by Edgar J. Goodspeed, in Journal of Biblical Literature, XXI (1902), pp. 100-107. Cf. no. 50.

47. (Gr. 3.) GEORGIUS HAMARTOLUS, Chronicon, cum versione Latina.

Paper, ff. xii+555, cm. 46×34, single columns, 25 lines, 100 quires of 6, except nos. 1, 4, 5, 29, 81, 91, 93, 95, 96 (4), 15, 16, 50, 51, 77 (5), 47 (7), 3, 100 (2), and 78 (3). In the leaf numbering, 132, 210, and 550 have been repeated. A fly-leaf at the beginning and end. Rulings on one side, margin rulings on both sides. Ff. 1b, 111a-11vb, 1xb, 1a, 551b-552b are blank. Berlin Purchase no. 8. Rome, 1785.

Contents: Honori Pii Sexti Pontificis Max. Optimi Principis Chronicon Georgii Hamartoli sive Ioannis Siculi ab Orbe condito usque ad annum DCCCXLII, cum continuatione innominati Autoris ad annum DCCCLXXXVI. E Codicibus Graecis MSS Vaticanis descripsit, latinumque fecit Ioannes Elias Baldus Romanus Bibliothecae Vaticanae Graecus Scriptor. Anno MDCCLXXXV. F. 1a.

1. Dedicatory address, f. 11a-b: Pio Sexto Pontifici Maximo Ioannes Elias Baldus Perennem Felicitatem. Incip.: Honores, gratiae, et praemia.—Explic.: cunctaque tibi prospera eveniant.

2. Praefatio, Incip.: Duorum Scriptorum Chronographiam.—Explic.: Et de hoc plurimas gratias eisdem semper agemus. ἔρρωσο, ff. va-xa. Baldus holds that the original Chronicon of Georgius Hamartolus has been supplemented by Ioannes Siculus from a Chronicon of Simeon, "Magister et Logotheta." As to manuscripts, Baldus states that he copies from Cod. Vaticanus 153, putting in the margins readings of Cod. Palatinus 394, which sometimes differs widely from the exemplar, e.g., f. 334b, Codex Palat. multum differt hic a Vaticano. To this preface is appended a list: Scriptores quorum autoritatibus usus est Georgius Hamartolus in hoc Chronico, ff. xia-xiib.

3. Table of Contents, ff. 1b-32a: Here and throughout the rest of the manuscript, the Greek occupies the versos, the Latin the opposite rectos. The Latin titles are usually accompanied by the fol. number. Greek Incip.:

(The University owns one of these other works, Georgius Hamartolus (no. 47), but not the other, Nicephoras Gregoras.) In its first section the dedicatory address deals especially with former librarians of the Vatican and their labors, in the second and last, with the gifts of Pius VI to the library, of which the purchase of the manuscripts (chiefly Greek) of the monastery S. Michael Glycas is well known as a Byzantine historian of the better class. His reputed letters (i-xxix) are printed in Migne, Patrologia, Ser. Graec., Vol. 158, coll. 647-958. The two Glycas manuscripts, nos. 48 and 49, include the bulk of those in Migne, but preserve a much fuller collection of 93 letters (56 in this volume and 37 in Vol. II). These letters contain much unpublished material, and many quotations especially from ancient and mediaeval ecclesiastical literature. Variants are given in the margin. The recto of the last fly-leaf shows a penciled pricemark in lire. Watermark: On one-half of the leaf a fleur-de-lis (?) in a circle; in the other: Pietro Milano Fabriano.

50. (Gr. 6.) Lectionarium Epistolarum.

Parchment, ff. 6, cm. 26.3×17, 1 quire, single columns, 39–43 lines. Probably the last quire of a book, for the last lesson ends with l. 3 of f. 6b. Professor Gregory's leaf numbering (1–267) of the accompanying Gospels manuscript (no. 46) continues through these leaves (268–273). Marginal capitals and lectionary indications are in red. Special purchase, 1895. Century XIII.

Label: the leaves were bound up, in 1897, as an appendix, with the Haskell Gospels (no. 46), the book being labeled: Four Gospels in Greek c. A.D. 1500.

Contents: Church lessons from the epistles, the majority for Lent. Incip.: π[ρ]οστα ραββ ἡ πόρνη (Heb. 11:31) f. 1a.—Explic.: ἀφοροῦντες εἰς τὸν τῆς πίστεως ἀρχηγὸν καὶ τελειώτην Ἰ(ησοῦ)ν (Heb. 12:2) f. 6b. The leaves preserve 33 (possibly 34) lessons, all but the first being complete. They are usually introduced by Ἀδελφοί. The texts are:

The material is for the most part that usually found on the last leaves of lectionaries; cf. Gregory, Textkritik, Vol. I, pp. 360–364. After the lessons have been carried through the great Sabbath, however, with no. 18 (Rom. 6:3–11), the remainder is a rather miscellaneous gathering of texts, some according to the Menologion for days of the month, others for various days of the movable church year. No. 26

(II Tim. 3:1-9) lacks a caption in the manuscript and is not found in the material printed by Gregory, op. cit., pp. 343-386. A modern hand has penciled in the margins Syriac notes, apparently indicative of the days for which the lessons are intended. Below the text, on f. 6b a more recent hand has written ανίξε το στομα μου και πληροθη σεται πνευματος και λογον ερευξο μαι τη βασιλει - - παις παντελης εκ χωριόν

κρα(?)

Below, in pencil, φύλλα [[ενα]] διακόσια εβδομήντα δύο 272 (that is, φύλλα διακόσια εβδομήντα δύο 272). The number of leaves in the present codex, including the gospels, 273, is probably meant. At the head of f. 2b, an early hand has written ὡδε ἡσὴν οἱ ἀπόστολοι τὸν ὥρον τῆς ἀγίας καὶ μεγάλης παρ(α)σκευαί· (=ὡδε εἰσὶν οἱ ἀπόστολοι τῶν ὥρων τῆς ἀγίας καὶ μεγάλης παρασκευῆ). The manuscript was purchased for the University, with the Haskell Gospels (no. 46), by Professor E. D. Burton and Professor C. R. Gregory, September 12, 1895, from Constantine Mitchell, executor of Pericles Morades, who had brought it to Chicago from some part of Greece, probably the island of Thera.

51. (Gr. 7.) NICEPHORAS GREGORAS, Historia Byzantina. Lib. 24, c. 5—Lib. 37 (38).

Paper, ff. 477 and 2 fly-leaves, cm. 27.9×19.4 to 28.5×20.7, single columns, 20 to 29 lines. The left half of the page is left as a margin for notes and corrections. 50 quires of irregular size, nos. 7, 17-26, 30-32, 38-41, 46-49, of 12; nos. 3, 14-16, 33, 35-37, 44 and 45, of 10; nos. 1, 8, 11-13, of 8; nos. 2, 9, 50, of 4; nos. 4 and 6, of 3; nos. 5 and 34, of 2; nos. 27 and 28, of 6; nos. 42 and 43, of 11; no. 10, of 5. No rulings; a fold divides each page vertically. Berlin Purchase no. 4. Ca. 1700.

Label: Nicephori Gregorae Historiae Byzant. Tomus III Graece. —On the back a rectangular paper label, like those on nos. 1, 5, 11, 52, 65.

Contents: Nicephorus Gregoras, Byzantine History, Lib. 24, c. 5 to the end of Lib. 37 (38 in the numbering of the manuscript). Incip., f. 1a: Νικηφόρου τοῦ Γρηγορᾶ κεφάλαιον εἰς τοῦ βιβλίου κδ. τῆς Ῥωμαϊκῆς Ἱστορίας. Ἦδη δὲ τοῦ φθινοπύρου λήγοντος καὶ τῆς ἐαυτοῦ ἐπιστάσεως. Explic., f. 475: λάθωμεν ἀπολαβεκότες τὰ ἀναγκαῖα τῆς δογματικῆς ὑποθέσεως. The manuscript exhibits a number of other peculiarities and irregularities indicative of a curious origin and history. A leaf numbering, counting usually only the leaves written upon and uncanceled, runs from 1 (f. 1, quire 1) to 230 (the last leaf of quire 27). 2 blank leaves at the end of quire 19, and 1 each at the end of quires 2 and 23 are left uncounted, as is the case also with the first 5 leaves of quire 20, which are canceled. On the recto of the first leaf of quire 28 begins a page numbering (α' , 2-12, $\epsilon\gamma'-\mu'$, 41-132) running to the last verso of quire 33. There follows: leaf numbering (133-162), f. 1, quire 34 to f. 9, quire 37, 2 blank leaves, 1 each at the end of quires 36 and 37 being again left unnumbered; page numbering (212-244), f. 1a, quire 38—f. 5a, quire 39; page numbering (235-341), f. 5b, quire 39—f. 11b, quire 43; leaf numbering (142-211), f. 1, quire 44—f. 2, quire 50, the last two leaves, quire 50, blank, unnumbered. The book numbering, too, is irregular. The historical books, 24-29 are correctly numbered, no. 25 bearing the legend: Τοῦ αὐτοῦ Ρωμαϊκῆς ἱστορίας λόγος ἰδ. ἤγουν κε. τῆς ὅλης αὐτοῦ Ρωμαϊκῆς ἱστορίας. Of the 6 dogmatical books following, the first is left without any number; over no. 2, a portion of the superscription, reading, ῥωμαϊκῆς μὲν ἱστορίας λα', has been canceled; 3-5 show no peculiarity; no. 6 is numbered 36 of the History, whereas by actual count it is 35. This is followed by two historical books, numbered 37 and 38 respectively.

The manuscript was probably copied from several (at least 3) different manuscripts, and collated with one or two others. The margin of f. 1a contains the note: Ex MS. Codice Vaticano num. 1095, pag. 95, and an occasional marginal note (e.g., ff. 60a, 61b, 73b, 78b) gives the pagination of that manuscript from 111-117. In the canceled portion of quire 20 begins a new marginal pagination in the hand of the scribe who wrote that portion, which runs, following the hand of this scribe, from 1-33 in quires 20-27 and from 63-70 in quires 35-37, giving presumably the folio numbering of the original from which this portion was copied. In quire 38 a third marginal notation sets in, beginning, on page numbered 217, with 113 and running through quire 43 to 144 on page 341. Aside from this, a hand differing from that of the scribe or scribes has supplied quires 24-33 with a marginal notation running from 156 to 205. These are the folia of Vat. 1095, and their insertion shows that this portion of our manuscript was collated with that codex. At least 6 different hands are found in the body of the manuscript, the first in quires 1-7 through f. 40a; quires 11-19, f. 59-146a; quires 44-50, f. 142-211; the second in quire 7, f. 40b-41b; quires 20-27, from the 5 canceled folia left unnumbered at the beginning of quire 20—f. 230a; quires 35-37, f. 135-162a; the third in quires 8-10, ff. 42 through 57b; the fourth in quire 10, f. 58; the fifth in quires 28-34, pp. α' , 2-12, $\epsilon\gamma'-\mu'$, 41-132, f. 133, 134; the sixth in quires 38-43, pp. 212-341. Several other hands have been at work upon the manuscript, supplying, in marginal notes running intermittently throughout the manuscript, conjectural emendations, the location of quotations,¹ the proper place for ¹Of especial interest is a note on f. 102b, quire 16, where in reference to a quotation from Athanasius the scribe copied what was evidently a marginal section-indentations, either as the reader found them in another manuscript with which he was collating, or, more probably, as he thought they ought to be, etc. The whole manuscript shows signs of hurried preparation. The work of the various scribes occasionally overlaps at the end and beginning of quires, and one of the duplicate copies is then canceled (quire 8, ff. 42a-43b; quire 10, f. 58; the first five ff. of quire 20). The edges of some of the quires are roughly trimmed, some are left altogether untrimmed. The binding, pigskin over pasteboard, is loosely put on. The place of clasps is taken by cords of hemp or flax.

The watermarks, especially those of the fly-leaves, which bear the name Fabriano, refer the paper of the manuscript to Italy as its place of origin. There is a penciled pricemark in lire on the inside of the rear cover.

The manuscript was probably prepared for use in Boivinus' edition of Nicephorus Gregoras' Byzantine History. Boivinus was the first to publish (Paris, 1702) Lib. 12—Lib. 24, c. ii, 4, of Gregoras' History. This was Vol. II of his work. No one before his time or unacquainted with his work would have entitled Lib. 24, c. ii, 5—Lib. 37 (38) of the history Tomus III, as does our manuscript, and that is precisely the point at which Boivinus left his work. Having carried the publication of the History in Tom. II through Lib. 24, c. ii, 4, he promised to complete his edition by a third volume, the contents of which were to be "libri quatuordecim, historici quidem octo, dogmatici vero sex," and a fourth volume, which was to contain Opuscula. These last two volumes were never published. But Boivinus' preface shows that he had collected considerable material for the third volume at least. For this he had copies of manuscripts from the Vatican prepared under the supervision of I. Vivantius at the expense of the abbot Camillus Teller covering apparently Lib. 25 and 26; a Paris manuscript containing apparently Lib. 28 to 32 or 33, and for the rest again copies of Roman manuscripts given him by Fr. Rostgaard. There can scarcely be any doubt that the material thus secured from Rome was based upon Vat. 1095. There is no record of any other manuscript of Niceph. Gregoras in Rome and certainly not of any which would correspond, like it, in contents (Lib. 18-38 [37]), in making Vol. II of the history begin with Lib. 12, and in counting 38 books, with the only Vatican manuscript of which Boivinus furnishes any adequate description, when he says (Migne, loc. cit., col. 11 f.): Joannes Mabillonius . . . communicavit mecum indicem accuratum librorum XXI, in uno codice Vaticano exstantium; quorum primus esset δευτέρου βιβλίου λόγος ζ, id est, Secundae Partis liber septimus, seu totius historiae decimus octavus; ultimus vero note in his source, Cod. Vat. 1095 (cf. Corp. Scr. Hist. Byz., Nic. Greg., Vol. III, p. 125, n. 16): Ἐκ τῆς ἐγκύκλιου ἐπιστολῆς, and a different hand added: adde [✓] πρὸς ἐπισκόπους Διγύπτου καὶ Διβύης. pag. 291, edit. Paris. 1698.

inscriberetur, 'Ρωμαϊκῆς ιστορίας λή'. . . . An examination of Cod. Vaticanus 1095, made by Mr. Sprengling at Rome in 1908, shows that the Nicephorus part of it begins with Lib. 18, reaching Lib. 24, c. ii, 5 on f. 95a; it makes Vol. II of the whole history begin with Lib. 12, as the heading to Lib. 25, cited above, shows; and it counted, by the error above shown, 38 books, instead of 37. Just what stage Boivinus' work upon this material reached neither he nor any one else has told. After him, however, work upon it seems to have lain dormant for over a century. His work was reprinted in the Corp. Byzant., Venice, 1729 (cf. Migne, Patrol., S.G. 148, col. 100, note [d]), but there is no record of any attempt to add to it at that time. Schopen, in the Bonn Corpus Script. Hist. Byz., 1839, did little more than reprint Boivinus' edition in two volumes. He tells, however, of a certain Hasius, who seems to have promised to take up the work where Boivinus left it. But his efforts led to nothing. It was not until 1855 that Immanuel Bekker issued as Vol. III of Niceph. Gregoras' works in the Bonn Corpus, that portion of the history contained in our manuscript. But it is practically certain he did not make use of our manuscript. True, the remainder of 24, and the whole of Lib. 25 and 26, and indeed (though he does not say so) Lib. 27 in his edition are based upon a copy of Cod. Vaticanus 1095, which is the source of a large portion of our manuscript. But the copy he used was expressly made for him (see his preface) at the cost of the Berlin Academy, by a certain Henricus Brunnus, and the rest of his work is based upon Codd. Paris. Reg. 1276 and 3075 (the latter a portion, at least, of Rostgaard's work), a copy of which he secured through Wladimir Brunetus. The text which he secured by these means does not correspond to that offered by the present manuscript. Indeed, had he had this manuscript, with its marginal notes, conjectural emendations, etc., his edition could not have failed to be considerably better. Since that time his work has been once reprinted, Migne, Patrol., S.G. 148, 149.

The most reasonable hypothesis, then, in regard to this manuscript, is that it was prepared either by or for Boivinus, as "copy" for his Vol. III. He may himself have had it (some of the work in the notes would seem to indicate as much), and sent it to Italy for correction (as he did with part of the material for the second volume), whence it was never returned to him. Or the whole of the work may have been done in Italy and may never have reached him.

52. (Gr. 8.) NICETAS SERRONIUS, Commentaria in Orationes Gregorii Nazianzeni.

Paper, black edges, ff. 399 and 5 fly-leaves (two in front and three in back), cm. 32.7×22.4, single columns of 29 lines, 51 quires of 8, except nos. 1, 40, 45 (6); 48 (7); 50 (10); and 51 (4). No rulings. Some ornamentation and initials in red or red and black. Calvary Purchase no. 3. Century XIV-XV.

Label: S. Gregor. Nānz. Opera.—Above, written directly on the pigskin binding, the number 29, and underneath this, 162. Below, on a rectangular paper label: XXXII. Cf. nos. 1, 5, 11, 51, 65.

Contents: 1. Ὑποθέσεις, brief introductory paragraphs on time, place, occasion, content, etc., of the various orations treated, ff. 1a-5b. Incip., f. 1a: ὑπόθεσις τοῦ λόγου τοῦ εἰς τὴν τοῦ χριστοῦ ἀνάστασιν: ἀκων εἰς ἱερωσύνην ὁ μέγας οὗτος πᾶτήρ ἀχθεῖς.—Explic., f. 5b: καὶ οὐδὲ τῆς συνήθους θεολογίας ἀφίσταται.— F. 6 is blank. The orations numbered 5 and 6 in the order of the ὑποθέσεις are put in reverse order in the ἐξηγήσεις.

2. Ἐξηγήσεις or commentaries by Nicetas of Serrae (sometimes called "of Heraclea") on 16 orations of Gregory of Nazianzus, ff. 7a-399b. Incip., f. 7a: Τοῦ ἐν ἁγίοις πατρὸς ἡμῶν Γρηγορίου ἀρχιεπισκόπου ναζιανζοῦ τοῦ θεολόγου λόγος εἰς τὴν ἁγίαν τοῦ χριστοῦ ἀνάστασιν: Ἐξηγήσεις τοῦ ἐν ἁγίοις πατρὸς ἡμῶν νικήτα σεράων:—Ἄκων χειροτονηθεὶς ἱερεὺς ὁ θεὸς Γρηγόριος. The commentary is upon the oration given under no. 1, Vetus Ordo XLI in Greg. Naz. works, Ed. Clemencet, Paris, 1778. The other orations commented upon are then treated as follows: Ed. Clem. XLV, Vetus Ordo XLII, beginning on f. 16b; Ed. Clem. XLIV, Vetus Ordo XLIII, f. 84b; Ed. Clem. XLI, Vetus Ordo XLIV, f. 101b; Ed. Clem. XV, Vetus Ordo XXII, f. 132a; Ed. Clem. XXIV, Vetus Ordo XVIII, f. 149b; Ed. Clem. XIX, Vetus Ordo IX, f. 163a; Ed. Clem. XXXVIII, Vetus Ordo XXXVIII, f. 178a; Ed. Clem. XLIII, Vetus Ordo XX, f. 200a; Ed. Clem. XXXIX, Vetus Ordo XXXIX, f. 247a; Ed. Clem. XL, Vetus Ordo XL, f. 267a; Ed. Clem. XI, Vetus Ordo VI, f. 306a; Ed. Clem. XXI, Vetus Ordo XXI, f. 312a; Ed. Clem. XLII, Vetus Ordo XXXII, f. 336a; Ed. Clem. XIV, Vetus Ordo XVI, f. 360b; Ed. Clem. XVI, Vetus Ordo XV, f. 383a.—Explic., f. 399b: τῷ θεῷ, ᾧ ἡ δόξα εἰς τοὺς αἰῶνας τῶν αἰώνων, ἀμήν. Of these ἐξηγήσεις there have been published: in Greek, nos. 1 and 12 of this manuscript, by Matthaei (Moscow, 1780; reprinted in Migne, S.G. 36); in Latin, by Billius, nos. 1-4, 8, 10-12 of our manuscript (cf. Migne, S.G. 36 and 127).—On other manuscripts of the ἐξηγήσεις see the prefaces in Migne, in Greg. Naz. Opp. Omn., Ed. Clem., and Oinont, Facsim. . . des . . . manuscrits grecs . . . du IX^e au XIV^e siècle, notice des Planches, p. 11; Planche 52, and Appendice p. 20, no. 1314.

The condition of the manuscript shows that it was at one time without cover or binding. A penciled pricemark in lire on the last fly-leaf.

53. (Gr. 9.) NICETAS SERRONIUS, NONNUS, Commentaria in Orationes Gregorii Nazianzeni.

Paper, ff. 43 and a fly-leaf in front and back, cm. 27.4×21.2—31×21.8, single columns, 27-44 lines, no ruling. The quires are very irregular; nos. 1, 2 and 6 of 4; 3 (11); 4 (6); 5 and 8 (3); 7 (8). A few initials in red, ff. 10, etc. Berlin Purchase no. 2. Century XV.

54. (Gr. 10.) PROCLUS, Elementa Theologica.

Paper, ff. 52, cm. 32.5×22.9. Single columns, 28 (27) lines, 7 quires, of 8 leaves, except 7th (4). Ff. 1 and 52 were originally left blank. Berlin Purchase no. 1. 1582.

Label: Procli Elementa Theologica. Below, part of such a paper label as appears on nos. 2, 6, 12, 14, 17, 18, 39, 47, 63, 65. The same title appears on f. 1a (the fly-leaf), and, in a different hand and with the addition of graec., on f. 1b.

Contents: Πρόκλου Διαδόχου, πλατωνικοῦ φιλοσόφου· στοιχείωσις θεολογική, κεφάλαια διακόσια ἑνδεκα, f. 2a.—Incip.: α' Πᾶν πλῆθος μετέχει τοῦ ἑνός.—Explic.: καὶ κείνα τέλεια ποιῶν, πᾶσα ἄρα ψυχὴ, κάτεισιν: Of 211 chapters, two (96, 202) were omitted by the first hand and later supplied, perhaps by the same hand, in the margin. Chs. 25 and 26 are wrongly numbered 24 and 25. The lacuna usual in Proclus manuscripts is indicated near the top of f. 51a, in ch. 209. There are occasional marginal notes in Greek. The chapter numbers usually stand in the outer margin. In text the manuscript shows some affinity with Codex A (Argentinus) of Friedrich Kreuzer's edition (Frankfurt, 1822).

At the end of the text, f. 51b, stand the following colophons:

Τέλος, καὶ τῷ θεῷ δόξα:

Creuzer in his edition (Proclus, In Platonis Alcibiadem, Commentarii, vol. 3, pp. xii, xiii), mentions many manuscripts of the Elementa (or Institutio) Theologica, but not this one.

55. (Gr. 11.) PROCOPIUS, Epitome Eclogarum in Heptateuchum et Canticum Canticorum.

Paper, ff. 462, pp. 924, cm. 41.5×28, 2 columns, 43–46 lines, in 116 quires of 4, except the 39th (3), 58th (2), and 98th (5). There are also 3 prefatory quires, of 2, 5, and 4 leaves, and a concluding quire of 5 leaves, left blank. Ff. ia–vii a, ix a–xi b, and pp. 923, 924 are blank. After the prefatory quires, the pages are numbered, 1–722. Columns ruled in ink on both sides. After the preface the Greek occupies the inner column, the Latin translation the outer, until it ceases at the end of Judges, p. 782. Thereafter the outer column is left blank. University of Chicago accession 18981. Hengstenberg? 1696–97.

Label: Procopius In Heptateuch: et Canticum.—Below, on a paper label, 83. The binding is pigskin, and is not the original one, since the edges have been trimmed since the marginal notes were written.

Contents: Procopius, Epitome Eclogarum in Heptateuchum et Canticum.

1. Χορικίον σοφιστοῦ Ἐπιτάφιος ἐπὶ Προκοπίῳ σοφιστῇ Γάζης, f. viii a.

Incip.: Ὁ λόγος (mg.: ἰσ. ἀρχεται) εὔχεται μὲν εἰς ἀνάγκην τοιαύτης ἐλθὼν ὑποθέσεως. τιμῇ δὲ τὴν ὁσίαν τοῦ τεθνεώτος ἐμοὶ παιδευτοῦ* (mg.: supple μνήμην) ταύτην αὐτῷ κατὰ δύναμιν ἀποδιδῶ ἀμοιβήν.

Greek: ταῖς τῶν διωκόντων ὄψεσιν ἀληπτοὶ γίνονται, τῶν ἀρωμάτων δηλούντων τὸ εἶδος τῶν οὐρανίων καὶ καθαρόν. p. 922. Choricus the "Sophist" was a pupil of Procopius of Gaza (A.D. 518–565). A note at the foot of col. 2, p. 782, gives the date of the manuscript: Coeptum hoc opus fuit d. xi Martii MDCXCVI. Ad finem feliciter perductum d. xvi. Iunii MDCXCVII.—The Latin translation does not go beyond this point; that is, it covers Genesis–Judges, but not the Song of Songs. A Greek "scholium ad p. 659" (14 lines) is inclosed on a loose leaf. On fly-leaf vii^b, in the upper right hand corner, a later hand has written: cf. de hoc manuscripto (ex bibl. God. Olearii) Rosenmülleri histor. interpretationis. part. IV. pagg. 222, 234 sqq., 245 sqq.-262. The watermark is a leaping unicorn.

56. (Gr. 12.) IOHANNES TZETZES, Epistolae.

Paper, ff. 137, cm. 20.1×16, in 12 quires of 12, except the 12th (5). 2 fly-leaves in front and back. Single columns, 20-22 lines, no rulings. There is a page numbering: 3, 24, 25, 48, 49, 72, 73, 96, 97, 120, 121, 144, 145, 168, 169, 190, 191, 192, 193, 198, 216, 217, 240, 241, 264, 265, 267 in ink by the original writer; for the rest another hand has supplied the numbering of the alternate odd pages 5-271, on the recto, in pencil. September, 1812.

Label: J. Tzetzae Epistolae.

Title: f. 1a: Lettres de Jean tzetzes, copiées par. Gr. G. Zalycos d'après le Manuscrit no. 2644. de la bibliotheque impériale de Paris, ce Septembre 1812.

Contents: 107 Letters of Iohannes Tzetzes. Incip., f. 2a: Ἐπιστολαὶ Ἰωάννου Τζέτζου. ἐπιστολὴ πρώτη. Τῷ [ελ] εὐλαβεστάτῳ διακόνῳ κυρίῳ Ἐπιφανίῳ, τῷ ἀνεψιῷ τοῦ Σίδης. Πυνθάνομαι ὡς παρὰ σοὶ τινὲς ἐπιφυλλίδες.—Explic. (letter no. 107), f. 271a: καὶ πρὸς θεὸν Ἰλαστήριος ἔντευξις :+ The last leaf of quire 12 is blank. In the margin: from the same hand, variant readings of MS. 2750; pp. 190 (last line) —198 (l. 8) are shown by a marginal note to be from 2750, because at this point a leaf is missing from 2644; on pp. 218, 223, 227, 247 variants from 2750 are supplied on slips of paper pasted in the margin. There are, besides a number of marginal notes, conjectural emendations, markings of quotations, etc., in a different hand.—On the inside of the front cover is written: (1) in pencil, $\frac{CJ}{25\ m}$; (2) in ink [H. G. Hamaker]. Underneath is pasted a slip cut from some bookseller's catalogue: Tzetzes, Joh., Epistolae, Manuscrit en grec, de 270 pages. d. v. 4to. Copie de la main de G. G. Zalycos d'après le manuscrit no. 2644 de la Bibliothèque nationale à Paris, faite en 1812. Ajouté un écrit autographe de J. Geel sur ces lettres et une lettre de D. J. v. Lennep à ce sujet. (For these see nos. 82 and 87.) Iohannes Tzetzes is well known as a voluminous Byzantine writer of the twelfth century (flor. 1180).

57. (It. 1.) BOCCACCIO, Il Filocolo.

Paper, ff. 160, in 16 quires of 10, cm. 29×21.5, 2 columns, 39–45 lines. Occasional column rulings on both sides. Quire signatures at lower right-hand corner of last versos. Berlin Purchase no. 33. 1456.

Label: Bocca(ecio) Il Filoco(lo). Cod. Ann. 1456.—Binding, half leather, flowered pasteboard sides.

Contents: Boccaccio, Il Filocolo. Five books. Incip., f. 1a: [M]ancate gia en tanto le forze del valoroso popolo.—Explic., f. 159b: felicemente consumo li giurni della sua vita. deo gratias am(en) am(en) am(en). The concluding chapter is a sort of envoi; ff. 159b–160a. Incip.: o piccolo mio libretto ad me piu anni.—Explic.: La cui vita nelle mani della tua donna amore conservi:

Below in the same hand this colophon: Finissia el quinto e l' ultimo libro del Filocolo deo gratias. amen. Iste liber scriptus est manu mei Angeli Blasii de gualdo in eadem terra gualdi sub anno domini millesimo iiiiclv. Indictione quarta. tempore sanctissimi in christo patris et domini. domini calisti divina providentia pape tertii die vero decima octava mensis aprilis Amen (f. 160a).

Callistus III was pope 1455–58. Gualdo in Umbria is probably meant, though a monastery of S. Maria de Gualdo in the diocese of Beneventum may be intended. A catalogue clipping prefixed to no. 26 describes this Angelo as a Spaniard in the Convent of S. Croce, partly through a misunderstanding of this colophon. There are occasional notes in another hand. Spaces have been left for large initials, but these have not been supplied. The manuscript is well written.

58. (It. 2.) Costumi e Morte di Papa Alessandro VI Contrario Al P. F: Girolamo Savonarola da Ferrara del ordine de Predicatori.

Paper, ff. 12, cm. 19×13.3, single columns, of 15 lines, 1 quire. The leaves are paged 1–21 (ff. 2a–12a). Appended in binding to Razzi, Vita di F. Girolamo Savonarola (no. 62). Century XVII?

Contents: Costumi e Morte di Papa Alessandro 6° [[de' Medici]] contrario Al P: Fra Girolamo Savonarola da Ferrara del ordine de Predicatori, etc., f. 1a. Incip.: Costumi e Morte di Papa Alessandro 6° [[de Medici]] Contrario Al P. De Medici, following the name of Alessandro 6°, has been erased again on f. 10a (=p. 19) l. 9.

59. (It. 3.) GREGORIO, Morali.

Paper, ff. 217, cm. 29.1×22, double columns, 34–45 lines, 24 quires of 10, except the 1st (prefatory) (4), 4th (8), 12th (2), and 24th (3). Most of f. 125 has been torn out. The quires, except the prefatory one, have been lettered with the Latin alphabet, b, o, v, and z being omitted. Column rulings at the top and sides. Initial capitals and titles in red. A pair of parchment fly-leaves (from another, perhaps a former, binding? cf. last parchment fly-leaf) and a pair of paper ones at each end. The prefatory quire shows a later hand than the body of the manuscript. Berlin Purchase no. 21. Century XV.

Label: Mo|rali di S. Greg. [Papa. These words are also written in print-capitals on the second paper fly-leaf, recto.

Contents: S. Gregorio Papa, Morali, ten books. Ff. 1a–3a. Notes (Notae) on various chapters. Incip.: Supra notantur capituli istius operis. Prologo. Lines entitled Laude dal Servo di Dio trovate nel suo Breviario (ff. 312b, 313a), and Di S. Maria Maddalena (ff. 313a-314a) follow. Incip.: Tu sei dolce Giesu signore eterno.—Explic.: se del tuo lume santo fiamme accese. Ff. 315-318, Indice.

Inside the first cover is written Ex B. 7 (or T), and below it in another hand, Mayerhoff. At the foot of the last verso, Pobratto (or Potratto?) is written, inverted. Appended to the manuscript and within the same covers is another, a small quire of 12 leaves, entitled Costumi e Morte di Papa Alessandro VI Contrario Al P: Fra Girolamo Savonarola, etc., which we have described separately (no. 58).

Villari, in his Life and Times of Savonarola, says that Razzi's Vita is a compilation from Pico and Burlamacchi, and that his works exist in manuscript in the Magliabecchian, Riccardian, and Laurentian libraries (I, xli, xlii). In pursuance of this suggestion we have examined the Razzi manuscripts in the National Central Library, in the Uffizi Palace at Florence, into which the Magliabecchian Library was merged in 1860. The Magliabecchian manuscript (xxxvii, 1, cod. 294) entitled Della Vita e Dottrina del RPF Girolamo Savonarola Difensione Generale. Fra Serafino Razzi, begins thus: A Benigni Lettori Salute nel Signore. Perche importa assai con qual animo, etc., f. 2a. Like the manuscript under discussion the Magliabecchian concludes with verse: Di alcune Rime spirituali composte dal servo di Dio Fra Ieron(i)mo, f. 232 ff. In the same National Central Library is another work of Razzi's, formerly in the Badia, entitled Vita e Morte di Fra Girolamo Savonarola da Ferrara dell' ordine de Frati Predicatori e P^o Reformatore della Congregazione de FF. di S. Marco di Firenze. Descritta da F. Serafino Razzi, . . . 1590. This is a work in 65 chapters (ff. 553), and after an epigram (f. 1b), begins with an address to Brandolini, as does the Chicago manuscript. The latter does not, however, fully agree with either of the Florence manuscripts we examined, and seems to be a different treatment of the same general subject by the same writer.

63. (Span. 1.) Breviario de Amor.

Paper, ff. 233 (6+ccxxvii), cm. 33×23.5, two columns, 35–37 lines, 24 quires, of 10, except the 1st (6) and 24th (7). After the table of contents, quire 1, the leaves are numbered in Roman. Column rulings on both sides. Berlin Purchase no. 35. Probably century XIV–XV.

Label: Breviario de Amor. The oval paper label, found on nos. 2, 6, 12, 14, 17, 18, 39, 47, 54, 65, numbered 17 has been applied over a smaller rectangular label.

Contents: Breviario de Amor, o sia Trattato di diverso cose spirituali Teologiche. This title in a late hand, at the top of f. 1a.

1. Table of contents, with corresponding leaf numbers, f. 1a–6b. Incip.: En nombre de nuestro señor ihu \overline{xpo} sea e de la gloriosa Virgen señora santa maria Comiençan las Rubricas deste libro llamado breviario de amor.—Explic.: Sermon del advenimiento del \overline{spu} santo ni por qual Razon fue embiado en tal manera.

2. The Rubricas, ff. i–ccxxvii. At the top of f. 1a, $\overline{ihs} + \overline{xps} +$. Incip.: El maestro Ruega a nuestro señor dios que le de \overline{gra} de bien dezir e de la obra complir amen. A picture in pen and ink of a figure kneeling in prayer with another bending over him from the heavens follows. The text then begins as follows: [P]or quanto el se so e el entendimiento e el saber e la subtilidad el ingenio procede e descende de la sanctissima e individua trinidad.—Explic.: e en tal manera vendras por tal camino a la gloria de paraiso donde estan e habitan los santos e hauras con ellos en uno gloria e bien aventurança sin fin con aquel que vive e regna alto en el cielo por infinita secula seculorum amen. Finito libro sit laus e gloria \overline{xpo} , f. ccxxviii.

Several pages are left blank, viib, xxxiiiib, xxxvii, xxxviii, lxiib, xcviib, cxviiib, clib. A price mark in lire is penciled on the verso of the last fly-leaf.

This encyclopaedic work embraces a body of divinity, concise treatises on astronomy, natural history, and ethics, and the articles of the faith, concluding with a sketch of gospel history. The Berlin list calls it the “original of the Floro del gay saber.”

64. (Span. 2.) ALEXO SALGADO CORREA, Libro Nombrado memorial de Martires de Hespaña.

Paper, ff. 390, (viii + 239 + 143) cm. 22.7×16.7, single columns, usually 16 lines. 33 quires of 12, except the 1st (9), and 33d (8). A printed plate has been inserted in quires 1 and 21, following ff. iii and 238 (head of Christ), and in quire 33 following f. 140 of Part II (coat of arms). The leaves are numbered, beginning with the 2d quire, from 1-238, then after the inserted plate, from 1-140. The first leaf of quire 1 was left blank, as fly-leaf, as were ff. 142 and 143 of Part II. No rulings. Berlin Purchase no. 46. Century XVI.

Label: wanting. The book shows no sign of having had one.

Contents: Libro Nombrado Memorial de Martires de Hespafia. Compuesto por Alexo Salgado Correa en verso Hespafiol, en estilo de Sonetos, que contiene dos partes. Quei en la primera se Refieren gloriosos martirios . . . en los tiempos . . . desde el emperador Nero hasta los emperadores Dioclegiano y Maximiano. . .

Y en la segunda parte se Refieren assimesmo gloriosos martirios . . . en la çiudad de Cordova Reinando en ella los Moros Arabes Abdarrahgman tercero, y Mahomat su hijo, Abdarrahgman su nieto.

Fueron estas obras traduzidas de las autenticas scripturas que en la prefacion de este libro se Refieren . . . f. ia.

1. Prefatory material, ff. ia-viii^b, including a dedication, f. iia, A la catolica real Majestad del Rey Don Philippe Nuestro Señor (i.e. Philip II), and two sonnets addressed to Christ, f. iv. Incip.: Imagen suavissima gustosa de mi Dios Ihesu Christo salvador; and the Prefacion de Alexo Salgado Correa sobre estos memoriales, ff. 5a-6b, in which the author acknowledges his indebtedness to certain works, particularly of Ambrosio de Morales and Florian do Campo—libros impresos y publicados y venidos a mis manos y leidos en breves oras de la Recreacion de mis ocupaciones publicas y studios de mi juridica proffession, f. 6a. These are followed by four preliminary sonnets, ff. viia-viii^b.

2. Part I, ff. 1a-239b. Sonnets on the Early Martyrs, with an alphabetic table of Martyrs treated, ff. 234a-238b. F. 239 (plate of the head of Christ) really forms the frontispiece to Part II. Incip.: Pues Dios honrra sus sanctos grandemente.—Explic.: En perssonas de tantas qualidades de varias suertes, sexos, y edades.

3. Part II, ff. 1a-141b. Sonnets on the Later Martyrs, ff. 1a-136a. Title: Comiença la proposicion de la Segunda parte deste libro en que se trata de los Sanctos que en Cordova fueron martirizados, en tiempo de los Arabes Mahometanos, f. 1a. Incip.: Nuestros martires sanctos gloriosos.—Explic.: agora y por siempre jamás, Amen. With an alphabetic table of the martyrs treated, ff. 137a-140a. F. 141a is a printed coat of arms, with the motto IHESVS SEMPER ET VBIQVE. F. 141b is written over with Latin texts from Galatians and Corinthians.

The book is still fastened with two brass clasps. At the top of fly-leaf ia, 30 . . is written. The edges are tooled and gilded, and the letter A (Alexo?) is inscribed on the outer edges. The leather-bound covers are adorned with a double eagle under a coronet at each corner and S surmounted with a crown in the center. The form of the manuscript plainly shows the influence of printed books.

The manuscript would seem to be the autograph of Correa. Another work of his is mentioned in Antonio, Bibl. Hispana Nova, I, 1783, p. 9b: Regimiento de Jueces: printed at Hispali Apud Martinum de Montedoca, 1556, in 4.

65. (Fr. 1.) ARMAND LE BOUTHILLIER DE RANCÉ, Examen des Reflexions du R. P. Mabillon.

Paper, ff. 508, cm. 43.9×29, including 1 fly-leaf. Quires 1-11 of 6 leaves; the others are too tightly bound to be determined. Single columns, 16-23 lines. A page numbering, 2-1012, runs from f. 3b to the end. Nos. 406, 407, 983 are omitted; no. 984 is repeated. Berlin Purchase no. 49. Ca. 1750.

Label: Examen des Reflexions du R. P. Mabillon. At the bottom is an oblong paper label bearing the number VI (cf. nos. 1, 5, 11, 51, 52), and over this the remains of an oval one like that on nos. 2, 6, 12, 14, 17, 18, 39, 47, 54, 63, which still bears the number 1. On the front and back covers are the arms of Pius VI (pope 1775-99), which also appear on nos. 47-49. On the front-paper, recto, the name Montfaucon is written, as though he were the owner of the manuscript. But B. Montfaucon died in 1741, and the watermark is 1742.

Contents: Examen des Reflexions du R. P. Mabillon. On the front-paper, verso, below a drawing of the sacred heart:

Ainsi tendre Jesus, Pelican adorable!
Tu nourris tes enfans de ton Sang précieux:
Ainsi ton sacré coeur est un banquet durable
Qui leur offre en tous tems un mets délicieux.

F. 507a bears a similar drawing of the heart of Mary, pierced by a sword; above, Sacré Coeur de Marie: below:

Voici du pur Amour le centre et le modèle,
Approchons-nous de cet ardent brasier,
Il nous pénétrera d'une flamme immortelle,
Qui de nos coeurs amolira l'acier.

1. Avertissement. Incip., f. 1a: Quand le R. P. Mabillon eut la charité de me venir voir après la publication de son Livre des Reflexions. —Explic., f. 1b: Dans le fond, j'ai toujours eu du respect et de la charité pour lui; mes sentimens se sont augmentés dans les rencontres, et je les conserverai jusqu'à la mort.—Ornament below.

2. Examen des Reflexions que le R. P. Mabillon a faites sur la Réponse a son Traité des Etudes. Incip., f. 2a, p. 1: Je m'étois imaginé, Mes Freres, que ce que j'avois dit sur le Traité des Etudes Monastiques du R. P. M. satisfesoit aux raisons dont il s'étoit servi pour en établir la nécessité. An elaborate ornament precedes the title.—

Explic., f. 506b, p. 1012: son Esprit, a qui seul il appartient de faire des choses miraculeuses. "Qui facit mirabilia magna solus." Fin. In the margin: Ps. 71. 19. At the bottom of the page, below a cherub: Nota, ce manuscrit est fait en coulée et batarde Angloise.—The back-paper, recto, exhibits a price mark in lire.

This treatise is the final answer of Armand le Bouthillier de Rancé, the founder of the Trappists, in his debate with Mabillon on the question, Should monks occupy themselves with scientific study? the Abbé de La Trappe maintaining the negative. Overcome by the personal charm of Mabillon, de Rancé never published this or any other answer. The watermark bears the name of an Auvergne maker, and the date 1742.

66. (Ger. 1.) Book of Devotions.

Paper, ff. 183, cm. 14.2×9.7, in 23 quires of 8, except the 22d (11) and 23d (4). One fly-leaf in front. The paper guards in front and back, on which there was writing in a modern hand, have been partly torn out, showing underneath parchment with the lines of the musical staff. Over the parchment, above and beneath, are bits of red leather, probably the remains of a leather cover. Only the boards of the binding, with traces of a clasp, now remain. The manuscript proper is in single columns, 15–19 lines, no ruling. The beginnings of sections are marked in red, and an ornamental initial stands at the top of f. 153a (151a). There are at least two hands, the second beginning with f. 31b. An old hand (perhaps more than one, probably contemporaneous with the writing of the book) has inserted an irregular folio numbering, running from 1–32, 34–38, 38–68, 68, 39, 40–44, 85, 46–100. A modern hand has corrected the old in pencil, and continued the numbering of all the folia originally written upon throughout to ff. 163. Berlin Purchase no. 55. Probably century XV.

Label: wanting.

Contents: A collection of mediaeval devotional literature.

On the blank leaves in the rear portion of the manuscript, the first known layman-owner has written a brief family chronicle with various memoranda. His hand appears first on f. 163a: Anno 1669 den 28. tag Aprilis. F. 163b contains a superstitious note of a murder committed on "Creutzerfindungs"-day, 1669, which in that year fell on a Friday. The rest of ff. 163–165 is taken up with memoranda of children at whose baptism the owner or his wife stood sponsor. F. 173a, the family chronicle. Incip.: Anno 1669 den 20. Dag Januarij. Hab ich mein frau zur Ehe. . . Ernst Lorentz Paulij Maria Magdalena Pauly geboren. . . —Explic., after memoranda of a number of children with date of birth and name, f. 173b: Ano 1718 den 10 februari ist mein Vater sehlich entschlaffen. Johannus Pauli hat dis geschriben. The hand of the son is decidedly less fine than that of the father. F. 174a the hand of the father reappears. Incip.: Wasz ich Lorentz Paulij jürlich vor beschwärmusz und zinsen gebe . . . Explic., f. 175a: It(em). In dasz Hb. Hohenfelts Hausz Jürlich [[ein]] 1 vierdell Korn. On f. 181b, in the midst of a scrawl, containing pious maxims, etc., another member, probably of the same family, has written: Adam Paull zu Bamberg. In 1723 the book changed owners, shown by a note in the new owner's hand at the foot of f. 140b: Geschrieben den 8. T. abril Henrich wejandt 1723. The same hand has inserted various scrawls, partly in bad Latin, here and there throughout the book.

The missing numbers of this book list show that at least two, possibly four, leaves are missing from the middle of the quire. On the lower margin of f. 3a stands the number 767, the 6 being written with heavy stroke over another 7. F. 4 is blank. The paper is thick and of somewhat coarse grain, but tough and of good quality. Watermark: arms of quaint design.

68. (Ger. 3.) JOH. MATHESIUS, Kirchen-, Schul- und Spitalordnung.
Chronicle of the Rammelsberg mines.

Paper, ff. 140, cm. 33×19.6 (20.5), in 12 quires, nos. 1 (14), 2 and 3 (2), 4, 8, 9, 10 and 11 (12), 5 (10), 6 (4), 7 (31), 12 (17); single columns, 27–39 lines. An old page numbering in ink, 1–61 on ff. 45a–75a. Hengstenberg? Mathesius, 1551; Chronicle, 1527–1583.

The last date given in this section is 1568.—Explic., f. 140b: allen Bericht des Rammelsbergischen Berg- und Hütten Wercks begehret undt gefodert. The lower half of f. 140 is torn out.

Mathesius' pamphlet is probably his autograph. The three sections of the Chronicle are in as many different hands. The last section is accompanied by Latin marginal notes in a scrawling hand. On the inside of the front cover, in a hand more modern than any in the manuscript, is the note: 9 Symbolis fol. 4. Interesting watermarks: a kobold over the letters A H HB on the one, a crowned bell on the other half-leaf; RW on one, a lamb within a wreath on the other half-leaf; a galloping unicorn of clumsy design.

Contents: 1. Reijze van de Captein Jan Hendrijk Torley in eene
Gezantschappijje aan de Keyzer van Marocco, in't jaar 1791 volgens (fly-leaf, a), pp. 1-218. To this are appended:

2. A series of documents, some of them original, entitled Tratados de Paz entre Su Magestad el Emperador de Fez y Marruecos y La S^{ta}ssima Republica Batava. Annos 1791-1801. Coleccion del Capitan del mar D. Juan Enrique Torley, pp. 221-480. These documents and extracts are lettered Litt. A-P, still others following. Their dates fall in the years 1790-1801. They include letters, dispatches, orders, accounts, etc., in Dutch, English, and French. Among them are orders of Admiral (?) Gardner, dated from the Phoebe in Cork Harbour, 1801; various letters to Capt. Bols, and an account of the goods and presents taken to Morocco by the expedition. Incip.: Den 28 September gingen wy om, p. 1.—Explic.: Embuscade I. Vandervoort, p. 480.

The front cover bears the book plate of Carl Hopf: Bibliotheca Caroli Hopfi. No. 561 (192). N. 35. His name is written above, and on the fly-leaf (a) with the date Hamm. d. 1 Jan. 1851; his stamp (C.H.) appears below.

73. (Icel. 1.) The Saga of St. Olaf.

Paper, ff. 544, cm. 31×19.5, single columns, 26–29 lines. 68 quires, of 8, with a fly-leaf at beginning and end. Paged 1–1086. Rulings on rectos. Berlin Purchase no. 50. 1827.

Label: Olaf Hins Helga og Orkneyia Sangur (i.e., Olafs Hins Helga og Orkneyia Saugur).

Contents: Olafs Saga Haralldzsonar Hins Helga Og Orkneyia Iarla Saugur. E Codice Regio Flateyensi a Columna 310 usque ad 583 (f. iia). On f. ia (the fly-leaf) is an Italian title: Saga Canti o Relazioni Istoriche di Olaf Haraldsson detto Hins-Helga, e Canti de Iarli (Duchi) delle Isole Orcadi. Alla Biblioteca Reale di Napoli, Paolo d'Ambrosio, 30 Maggio 1827—nomastico di S. A. R. il Duca di Calabria.

1. The Óláfssaga and Sagas of the Jarls of the Orkney Islands, (Olafs Saga Hins Helga og Orkneyia Iarla Saugur.) Incip., p. 1: Her hefr vpp Sogu Olafs konungs Haralldzsunar. 2. Appendices to the Óláfssaga (Viðbætur við Óláfs sögu hins helga) [Haec quae sequuntur, pertinent ad Historiam Olavi Sancti, et extant in Cod. Flat: post Historiam Haquini Senioris, Columnis 750–51–52–53–& 54]. Incip., p. 1061: Þessir smáir Articuli sem her eru saman.—Explic., p. 1086, við kgin eðr nockurra illenda. (Cf. Christiania ed., III, pp. 237–248.)

The manuscript is clearly written. The name Paolo d'Ambrosio is stamped in red on f. iia.

Watermarks: on the last fly-leaf, P GRELOV; on the quires, sometimes A D S, sometimes G R surmounted by a crown, sometimes J Honig & Zoon, most often an elaborate one, which appears also in no. 71, with the motto Pro Patria.

This manuscript of the Óláfssaga was copied from the celebrated Flateyjarbók, one of the best of Icelandic manuscripts, which was written in 1387–94. In the sixteenth century it was in the possession of a distinguished family on the Island of Flatey, west of Iceland, and probably since 1656 has been preserved in the Royal Library at Copenhagen. The Flateyjarbók is described in the Katalog over de oldnorsk-islandske Håndskrifter, i det store kongelige Bibliotek (Copenhagen, 1900) (no. 18. Gl. kgl. sml. 1005, I–II, fol. Flateyjarbók), pp. 10–16. The standard text of the Saga is the Christiania edition, 1860–68, in three volumes: Flateyjarbók. En Samling af norske Konge-Sagaer med inskudte mindre Fortællinger. The columns of the Copenhagen Flateyjarbók were numbered in the seventeenth century, and to these numbers the present manuscript refers.

The manuscript was once owned by Paolo d'Ambrosio, who seems to have given it to the Royal (now the National) Library at Naples, perhaps in honor of the Duke of Calabria.

74. (Heb. 1.) Tracts on Domestic and Ceremonial Matters.

Parchment, ff. 140, cm. 13×10, usually single columns but sometimes 2 or 3, besides one or two in the margins; usually 13 lines, the accompanying comment sometimes 21 to 40 lines. 19 quires, of 8, except nos. 12, 19 (3), 17 (4), 18 (10). Rulings usually on both sides. Hengstenberg. 1467.

Label: wanting. The pigskin binding, which is not the original one, is in perfect condition, and has never had a label.

On the first fly-leaf a modern hand has written:

3. A Tract on slaughtering, ff. 128a-140b. Incip.:

פסקא דשחיטה

—Explic.:

מחליש העור

Since in Mishna, Seder 5 (קדשים), Tractate (מסכת) 3, שחיטה דכליך, such subjects are treated as in fragments 1 and 3 of this manuscript, and the order of subjects there is (1) slaughtering, (2) clean and unclean, (3) varia, it is quite possible that fragment 3 in the manuscript is really an introduction to no. 1 (the Sha'arim), a question which a printed text of the שער דורא, if one exists, would decide. —Kalonymus Ben Gershon is mentioned in the Jewish Encyclopedia (s.v. "Kalonymus"), as is a bibliography to be found in Michael, Or ha-hayyim.

The paper fly-leaves bear watermarks which show that the present binding is as late as 1814, and suggest its German origin; on one, after other royal monograms, GR III Deutschlands Erretter und B[efreier?]. On the other, Der 30. Maerz 181[4]. The date is that of the surrender of Paris to the allies. It is probable that this paper was manufactured within a year of that date. F. 1 has been neatly patched at top and bottom with parchment, probably at the time of the rebinding. At the top of f. 1a, P. v. Bohlen has been written and crossed out, at the outer corner, and at the inner, Donum R. Iacub(?) Hamb. 1820. P. von Bohlen, the orientalist (1796-1840), spent much of his early life at Hamburg. He was professor at Königsberg, 1830-1840. The title and date of the manuscript (October, 1465) are written in a modern hand in pencil within the right-hand cover. Our date is derived from the subscription on f. 125a.

ARABIC

75. (Arab. 1.) The Quran, in Arabic.

Paper, ff. 70, supplemented in binding with 8 interleaves and 16 leaves at beginning and at end, ff. 110 in all. On the new leaves at the beginning a modern hand has supplied the text of Sura 1:1—2:55, probably from a printed text, leaving alternate leaves blank. Cm. 28×19.5, single columns, 21 lines. 7 quires of 10. Old University of Chicago Library. University of Chicago accession 251137. Century XVI?

Label: Coran MS.

Contents: The Quran, in Arabic, Suras 2:153b—12:45a.

The name John Hattersley (or -by?) is written on the recto of the end-paper. Inside the front cover are book plates of W. L. Andrews (three books, with monogram, and the name, in flourishes, below); of the Old University of Chicago Library (no. 5081. Presented by H. M. Thompson); together with the present book plate of the University, and a printed slip from a sales-catalogue: "2781 Koran, folio, an early and well-written MS in coloured inks, in the African character, 188 pp." Inside the last cover is a cipher pricemark, and "J. S. and Son," in pencil. On the front-paper and fly-leaf, in pencil, 133. Mss. Arabic Koran. bxz. 94. 188 pages. £1/9/. On f. 1a of the first added quire, "Alcoran Pr" in pencil. The traceable owners thus seem to have been John Hattersley, W. L. Andrews, J. S. and Son (dealers), H. M. Thompson, and the Old University of Chicago. The total of 188 pp. includes the preliminary quire (16 ff.), and the interleaving (8 ff.), which, with 70 ff. of the old manuscript, give 94 ff., 188 pp.

82. J. GEEL, Over de Brieven van Tzetztes.

Paper, ff. 6, in 3 quires of 2 each, another leaf being folded about the whole for a cover, single columns of 27 lines; pp. 1, 5, and 8 numbered.

On the first recto of the covering leaf is the title: Over de Brieven van Tzetztes. Incip., f. 1a: De Chiliaden van Joannes Tzetztes.—Explic., f. 6b: zoodat de uitgaaf onder bescherming van det Instituut geschie dde. J. Geel. 5. Oct. 1826.—This little treatise, unbound, accompanies the manuscript of the Tzetztes letters, no. 56.

83. GEORGE B. IDE, Record of Marriages solemnized in Springfield, Mass., 1852–72.

Paper, ff. 42, cm. 29×21.5; 7 quires of 12, single columns.

84. LE JEUNE-DIRICHLET, Theorie der Zahlen.

Paper, ff. 72+7+6, cm. 21.2×16.8. Berlin, Sommersemester, 1841.

Contents: Notes of Wm. Gallenkamp, stud. math., on Theorie der Zahlen nach Prof. Le Jeune-Dirichlet. 7 loose leaves with trimmed edges, in the rear, are inscribed "Zahlentheorie." 6 other loose leaves, with untrimmed edges, bear the superscription: "Theorie der complexen Zahlen Auszug aus dem Dirichletschen Vortrag vom Sommers. 1842 (21 Mai 1843). The bound notes have page numbering as far as the writing goes. 10 ff. in the back are left blank. The seven loose ff. on the "Zahlentheorie" have a folio numbering.

85. LE JEUNE-DIRICHLET, Ueber bestimmte Integrale.

Paper, ff. 138, cm. 21.2×17.5. Berlin, Wintersemester, 1841–1842.

Contents: Notes of Wm. Gallenkamp, stud. math., Ueber bestimmte

Integrale nach Prof. Lejeune-Dirichlet, ff. 1-98; on Anwendung der Lehre von den bestimmten Integralen. Lejeune-Dirichlet, publice, f. 100-122; Anhang. Darstellung ganz willkürlicher Funktionen der Sinus und Cosinusreihen, von Lejeune-Dirichlet (aus Dove's Repertorium für Physik, Bd. 1, 1837, 123-138). Loose in the rear of the volume is a printed Verzeichniss der in Lejeune-Dirichlet's Werke aufzunehmenden Arbeiten und Notizen.

86. LE JEUNE-DIRICHLET, Integration der partiellen Differentialgleichungen, etc.

Paper, ff. 16, cm. 20.1×16.1. Berlin, Wintersemester, 1840-41.

Contents: Notes of Wm. Gallenkamp on Integration der partiellen Differentialgleichungen und deren Anwendung auf Physik nach Prof. Dr. Lejeune-Dirichlet.

87. J. VAN LENNEP, Letter.

Paper, 1 f., cm. 19.5×23.5, 24 lines.

Contents: Letter relating to "Heer Geel" and his project of publishing the Tzetzes letters, signed D. J. van Lennep. Without date. Probably 1826-1830. Geel's treatise is dated September, 1826, and this letter was probably written soon after; cf. nos. 56, 82.

88. Letters, with Odyssey scholia.

Paper, ff. 2 (one sheet, cm. 34.5×20.5, folded once).

Contents: A letter in German, quoting two scholia in Greek on Homer, Odyssey, α, 1 and 371 respectively. Incip.: Ich schicke Ihnen hier eine Dissertation damit Sie sehen ob Sie sie bei Ihrer pythagoräischen Untersuchung brauchen Können.—Explic.: ἐμμελῶς (ἐμμελοῦς emend. Mai.) ἀρμονίως.—There is no heading nor subscription.—The address, which corresponds to the letter in hand and ink, is on the lower half of f. 2b; written at right angles to the direction of the lines of the letter, and reads: E.(?). Schleiermacher† Nebst 1 Buch.—A note in another hand was written on the upper half of f. 2a, the writing being at right angles to that of the former letter, as follows: Ich soll Ihnen von Göschen sagen dasz das Einliegende die griechische Probeschrift sey von welcher Sie wüszten. (Signed) Catrina Göschen.—The names, carelessly written, are not altogether certain. The address corresponding to this note is on the lower half of the original f. 1b, reading: Herrn Professor [[G]] Buttmann.

89. MARHEINECKE, Encyclopädie; NEANDER, Anthropologie und Christologie.

Paper, ff. 172, cm. 23.1×19, one column of varying size and number of lines. Berlin, 1822-23.

Contents: Encyclopädie der theolog. Wissenschaften nach dem Vortrage des Prof. Dr. Marheinecke . . . von August Friedrich Heese. Berlin im Wintersemester 18²²/₂₃ . . . Anthropologie und Christologie nach dem Vortrage des Prof. Dr. Neander.—Marheinecke's Encyclopädie occupies ff. 1–89; Neander's Anthropologie und Christologie, ff. 92–172.

90. P. MÜLLENHOF(?), Glossarium Germanicum.

Paper, ff. 57, cm. 20.6×17, 2 columns, no rulings. Berlin Purchase no. 59. 1800–1850.

Contents: f. 1a, "Glossarium German." With a table of contents: (1) Glossarium Ulfilanum; (2) Lexicon Alamannicum saec. XII; (3) Rhabani Mauri glossae de partib. humani corp.; (4) Lexicon Runicum Magni Olavi et Ol. Wormii; (5) Ol. Wormii lexicon in Biarkamal; (6) Lexicon Teutonicum; (7) Idioticon Ravensbergense. On the verso is a small (incomplete?) Index glossarum veterum. Swedish grammatical material is added on f. 56. The Berlin list says that these glossaries are P. Müllenhof's.

91. J. L. NIERSTRASZ, JR., Letter.

Paper, f. 1, cm. 21.1×20.7, 18 lines.

Contents: A letter, in Dutch, of J. L. Nierstrasz, Jr., the Dutch poet, dated Rotterdam, April 11, 1823. The address is missing.—In the same folder with the letter is a copper plate portrait of J. L. Nierstrasz, Jr. The inscription on the folder makes its contents a part (no. 3135) of a collection of autograph letters, etc., "délaisés par feu Mr. J. Baart de la Faille," etc., sold at public auction November 3, 1868, by G. Theod. Bom, dealer in antiquities at Amsterdam.

92. PEERLKAMP, Historia Universalis, vol. 2. Lecture notes.

Paper, ff. 192, cm. 20.5×16.2. Versos usually blank. Leyden, 1822–49.

II. Ovidius, De Remedio Amoris, 1–472, ff. 146a–155b. The text is introduced by a long note in the hand which wrote the scholia: Incipit liber de remedio amoris. In principio huius libri.—The De Remedio Amoris follows. Incip.: [L]egerat huius amor titulum nomenque libelli.—Explic.: Quam poscam reddi calcas tutus ope accellis. Incomplete.—The latter part has been largely retraced.

APPENDIX II

The Berlin Purchase included among its manuscripts three letters purporting to have been written by Raphael. The great interest and value of these letters, if genuine, led us to examine somewhat closely into their authenticity, and although we have been compelled to condemn them as modern imitations, and so to exclude them from our list, it seems worth while to describe and print them as instructive examples of skilful manuscript imitation, and because the grounds of our decision may be of interest. The Berlin List, no. 60, says of them: Sanzio, Raffaele, the famous painter. Three original autograph letters, 1515–1516.

It must be remembered that there are in existence but five letters of Raphael of acknowledged authenticity: those to Simone Ciarla, to Domenico di Paris Alfani, and to Francesco Francia, written in 1508; to Simone Ciarla, written in 1514, and to Baldassare Castiglione, written probably in 1515. The temptation to forge Raphael letters would thus be strong, and may have been given a special direction forty years ago by the identification by Alfred de Reunont,¹ of the "Canossa Madonna" described by Vasari, and long supposed to be lost, with the Madonna of the Pearl (La Perla) in the Prado Museum at Madrid. It is to that picture that these letters, whether genuine or not, clearly relate. The "Canossa Madonna" is described by Vasari in his sketch of Raphael, as follows:

To Verona Raphael sent a large picture of no less excellence, for the Count of Canossa. The subject is the Nativity of Our Lord, admirably treated, the daybreak in particular, as here portrayed, has been highly commended, and the same may be said of the figure of Sa' Anna and indeed of the whole work, which one could not extol more effectually than by the simple assertion, that it is by the hand of Raphael da Urbino. The Counts hold this picture in the highest estimation, as it well deserves; very great sums have been offered to them for it by different princes, but they have never been prevailed upon to part with it.—VASARI, Lives of the Painters, III, 178 (Blashfield-Hopkins ed.).

It will be seen that the first of the following letters apologizes for the artist's delay in completing the picture; the second seeks instructions as to forwarding it to Verona, and the third explains that Count Gerolamo di Canossa is to take it thither.

1. RAPHAELLO SANZIO(?). Letter to Lodovico di Canossa, Bishop of Bayeux.

Paper, f. 1, cm. 31.5×19.3, folded to a size cm. 6×11.7. The paper is old and fine, but has the look of a fly-leaf from an old book. The hand is much like Raphael's and is identical with that of Letter 2, but is not quite that of Letter 3. The ink is the same as that used in Letter 2, showing a slightly pinkish tinge, unlike the yellow-brown to which sixteenth-century inks usually fade. The sheet has been badly spotted by damp at top and bottom, and where the ink has been washed out, traces of pencil marks appear under the letters. Dated August 7, 1515.

In l. 8, In has perhaps been erased. In l. 9, V. suggests Vuostra, but perhaps means Verso, i.e., "regarding."

The date is unfortunately somewhat obscured by damp. It seems to be MDXV, but might possibly be read MDXIV or MDXVI. But the Diario of Marino Sanuto, the journal of a privileged functionary of the papal court, reports that Renato di Priè, who preceded Canossa in the bishopric of Bayeux, died on August 14, 1516. Either reading of the date is thus at variance with the facts as to the succession of Lodovico to the bishopric of Bayeux, for on August 7, 1516, Renato was still alive. A further objection to the genuineness of the letter lies in the extent to which its language resembles that of the Simone, Francia, and Castiglione letters published by Passavant, which is certainly closer than we should expect. Batisto is a mistake for Batista, and aricomando betrays another oversight. On the whole this letter seems quite clearly spurious.

2. RAPHAELLO SANZIO(?). Letter to Count Galeasso di Canossa.

Paper, f. 1., cm. 30×19.3. Folded to a size cm. 6×13. The paper is much as in the preceding, but with a different water mark—three large capital letters triangularly set. The hand and ink are as in Letter 1. The sheet looks like an old fly-leaf. Dated April 30, 1516.

3. RAPHAELLO SANZIO(?), Letter to Count Galeasso di Canossa.

Paper, f. 1, cm. 28.8×20.5. Carefully folded to a size of cm. 10.7×6.3, so as to constitute its own envelope, and addressed. The paper is old and fine, but has the appearance of having been a fly-leaf torn from an old folio. The sheet has been patched with paper strips pasted on the verso. The hand is very neat, and much resembles that of Raphael as shown in facsimiles of his writing, e.g., the incomplete sonnet on a Vienna sketch for
